On the Zoning Board 16 years, he will retire soon

By Don Staruk

Those who have worked with Wesley Whitney during the 16 years he has served on the Zoning Board of Appeals have nothing but praise for the man, but don't tell him that.

"There's just not enough adjectives. He's given certainly as much to this town as anyone else has," said Pat Schwing, secretary to the board for all 16 years. "I've never worked with anyone with whom I've enjoyed working so much. But don't tell him that. Make sure you tell him that I had nothing nice to say about him."

Mr. Whitney, 64, of 6 Partridge Hill Road, chairman of the ZBA, will retire from that position next week. He will be honored with

Students say AHS violated candidates' free-speech rights

By Lisa Boudreau

By a vote of 16 to 1, a handful of students and a few parents decided the Andover High School administration quelled three student government candidates' First Amendment rights by disqualifying them from running. The administration took the action because the students used "questionable" language in their speeches. The action followed the students' campaign speeches May 1.

The school's chapter of Junior Statesmen, a non-aligned political club, sponsored the debate, which was held Thursday, May 23, at the school. Junior Heather McNemar presented the argument last week that the administration stifled all AHS students' rights by taking the candidates off the ballot.

"If a football player uses obscenities he isn't taken off the football team. The administration shouldn't twist the rules and make them apply only to a certain segment of the student population. They should let the students speak and let the students decide who

Wil Hixon is retiring

AHS principal worked in schools here for 32 years; he's ready to relax after years teaching, coaching

By Lisa Boudreau

Andover High School Principal Wilbur Hixon has worked every summer since he was 12 years old. When he retires this June after teaching, coaching and working as an administrator in Andover for 32 years, Mr. Hixon plans to have "nothing to do with any alarm clocks or appointments books."

"I've really enjoyed coming to work each day and that's the time I believe that you should leave it," he said.

Mr. Hixon, who will turn 62 this August, expects to be content when he retires. But he is not sure about that.

"Who knows how I will feel in September or October? I might be climbing the walls by then."

Mr. Hixon first began teaching history and coaching varsity basketball and junior varsity football at Andover High in 1959. He previously had taught high school for six years in Plymouth, N.H., where he took the basketball team to five state tournaments, including a state championship in 1955.

"I think one of the big reasons I was hired to work in Andover was that they had two head coaching positions open that year. I was hired to coach basketball, and Dick Collins came in at the same time to coach football. We also both taught in the history department at the high school," he said.

In 1961 he was named the head of the social studies department; in 1974 he became assistant principal; and in 1987 he became

Older in Andover

When a parent moves in with his kids

60+

In Andover today, 11.5 percent of the population is 65 or older.

By 1993, forecasters expect that number to grow to 13.5 percent. With this story, the Townsmen begins a series that will run from time to time on what it's like to be older and living in Andover — what is available in terms of support, what's to do in terms of entertainment and where Andover's senior citizens live.

the principal.

When administrative duties increased, Mr. Hixon gave up coaching basketball in 1983, but he missed coaching right away.

He coached basketball at AHS 24 years. His overall record for 30 years of coaching basketball, in Andover and New Hampshire, is 29 winning seasons. He took the Andover team to 21 state tournaments and in 1970 won the state championships.

He has received numerous coaching awards, including the coach of the year in New Hampshire in 1955, the coach of the year in Eastern Massachusetts in both 1970 and 1981, the Northeast Conference coach of the year in 1965 and he has been named coach of the year in the Merrimack Valley five times.

During his tenure in Andover, Mr. Hixon had a 14-year career coaching JV football, a few years assisting with the varsity baseball program and a stint coaching the golf team.

Dick Collins, head of the social studies department at AHS and head football and track coach at AHS, is a long-time friend. He said golf is one of his friend's hobbies. He said Mr. Hixon also likes to play practical jokes.

"I remember one time, years ago, Wil, Jerry Silverman (another coach at the time) and I were playing golf somewhere in New Hampshire. Jerry and I were looking for a ball that got lost in the woods and Wil was down on the green.

"When Jerry and I got to the green, I found that what had started out as a two-foot putt for me and a 10-foot putt for Wil was reversed. While Jerry and I were looking for the ball in the woods, Wil had got the greenskeeper to move the hole," Mr. Collins said.

To this day, said Mr. Collins, that is one of his "favorite Wil-Hixon stories." He said he hopes when the new principal for AHS is chosen the principal will be a clone of Mr. Hixon. Mr. Collins said he admires his friend's loyalty to the staff and students as well as his sense of what's right and wrong.

"You want to do your best for Wil because you know that he's out there doing his best for you," said Mr. Collins.

Although teaching has changed in the past three decades, Mr. Hixon doesn't believe the commitment of the staff has changed.

"There is a professionalism among the staff here that as a principal I appreciate very much," he said.

Mr. Hixon estimates the average tenure among the AHS staff is about 24 years. He admits there is some danger of the staff being top heavy if it isn't balanced out with younger members, but he believes a balance is struck at AHS between veteran staffers and newcomers.

"When I look at the people here on this staff I feel a great deal of pride," he said.

He said the role of a teacher no longer is only teaching the three R's. Teachers have to help students deal with personal problems.

"We have a lot of society's problems thrust on us. But if we don't help these kids I some-times wonder who will," he said.

One of the most difficult times for an educator had to be the late 1960s and the early 1970s, said Mr. Hixon.

"It was a very tough time for education. It was a time of turmoil, of Vietnam and kids began to scratch their heads and ask why. They questioned everything or anyone that resembled an authority figure," he said.

He said the changes weren't too noticeable in the classroom, but they could be seen in the school's corridors. Drugs came onto the scene, he said.

Equally disturbing in today's society, said Mr. Hixon, is that though hard drug use among high school students is on the decline, alcohol abuse is increasing. In addition, more and more children with substance-abuse problems are coming from homes where their parents are alcoholics or drug users, according to Mr. Hixon.

"These kids are drinking at such an early age. It's inconceivable to me that some of these kids begin drinking in the sixth grade."

He said he tries to leave as many of the daily stresses at school when he goes home. But that isn't always possible.

"There are many nights when I wish I could just leave it all at the office. Ask any parent of two or three about the worries he has and then ask them if they'd like 1,200."

Mr. Hixon will be honored at a testimonial dinner June 11, at Windsor Mills Restaurant in Dracut. For tickets call Jim Hurley, athletic director, at 470-3800, Ext. 369.

NEWS IN BRIEF

ABC annual meeting is tonight at 8

The 24th annual meeting of A Better Chance will be held tonight, Thursday, May 30, at 8 p.m. at South Church Fellowship Hall. Refreshments will be served at 7:30 p.m. The public is invited.

Samuel S. Rogers will be honored. He is recipient of the President's Award.

A Better Chance is a national non-profit organization that provides academically talented minority students with an educational alternative. ABC identifies, recruits and refers qualified, highly motivated students to outstanding secondary schools, both private and public.

Farewell party set for librarian

The public is invited to attend a farewell party for Ruth Sharpe at the Ballardvale Library Thursday, June 6, from 4-6 p.m.

Ms. Sharpe has served as the Ballardvale Librarian since 1969.

The Ballardvale Library is closing at the end of June, with the end of the fiscal year. Town Meeting approved the closing, made necessary by budget cuts.

Stamp to honor Patriot missile

The Patriot missile, the high-tech hero of the Gulf War and pride of Raytheon Company, will be honored by the Andover Post Office on July 4 with a pictorial philatelic, cancellation, depicting a Patriot firing from its launcher.

Andover Postmaster Tony Mendoza will issue the one-day stamp cancellation July 4 as part of the nationwide welcoming home for the troops returning from Desert Storm. Persons interested in having this special issue cancellation can submit up to 50 envelopes per order to the Postmaster, Andover, MA 01810. More than 50 envelopes is an additional 5 cents per cancellation. The envelopes will be canceled and returned in a pre-address envelope, provided by the customer with the proper postage.

The main post office will be open July 4 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. for those wishing to get the cancellation personally.

The Patriot cancellation is not the first special postmark the Andover Post Office has created. The office issued special cancellations for the president's visit to Andover in November 1989 and when the Old Town Hall was reopened in May 1989.

"I was interested in doing something very special for the troops of all arm branches that have fought in all wars for our freedom as well as our own men and women associated with the production of Patriot at Raytheon's facility in Andover," said Mr. Mendoza. "Doing a special stamp takes a lot of effort, but for those lucky enough to get one of these unique cancellations, it's a very meaningful memento and collectible."

Mr. Mendoza said people must act quickly, because after July 4, the special-issued Patriot Missile cancellation stamp will be destroyed.

Ken Seifert takes temporary job

Kenneth Seifert, superintendent of schools in Andover for 22 years until he retired this year, has a temporary job beginning July 1 as acting superintendent of schools for the city of Somersworth and the town of Rollinsford, both in New Hampshire. The two contiguous communities make up school administrative unit number 56 for New Hampshire. Together, the two have about 1,800 students.

Dr. Seifert, who lives at 16 Ivy Lane, said he expects the job to last two to three months. The two-district school system is currently in the process of searching for a superintendent. The former superintendent resigned, according to Dr. Seifert.

It will be about an hour's commute for Dr. Seifert. "I don't mind it; it's nice scenery," he said.

Taking a job as an acting superintendent is something Dr. Seifert said he might be doing more of in the future.

"I am not sure of the future," said Dr. Seifert. "This is mutually convenient. I have other irons in the fire that could break in September or October."

Town offers oil recycling

The waste oil recycling and disposal program operated by the Andover and North Andover health departments has scheduled its dates for June. The collection tank, located at the rear of the North Andover Fire Station, will accept oil Saturday, June 8, from 9 a.m. to noon, and Wednesday, June 12, from 4 to 7 p.m.

Residents may dispose of a maximum of 10 gallons at a charge of 50 cents per gallon. Proof of residency is required. Oil adulterated with water, antifreeze, paint or any other foreign substance will be rejected. Disposers should consolidate small units to the largest possible containers (quarts to five- or 10-gallon containers).

Contact the Andover Health Department, 470-3800, Ext. 255, with any questions.

Townsmen to photograph fathers

The Townsmen is looking for families that have three generations or more of fathers, in honor of Father's Day, which is June 16.

If you can gather your dad and granddad and even great-granddad, give us a call at 475-1943.

The Townsmen photographer will take the dads' photos and run it in the newspaper.

Deadline is Friday, June 7, at noon.

Rep. Gary Coon delivers his maiden speech

State Rep. Gary M. Coon, R-Andover, delivered his maiden speech during last week's marathon session to pass a budget for Fiscal Year 1992.

His maiden speech, as members of the Legislature call a representative's first participation in debate, was in support of an amendment offered by Rep. Peter Blute of Shrewsbury to privatize the Hynes as both a cost-saving and government-restructuring measure.

"I chose to speak about the Hynes," Rep. Coon said, "because it symbolizes what's wrong with our government. The endless subsidies, the cronyism and the mismanagement, which characterize the Convention Center are the kinds of waste that make people angry with government."

The amendment failed to pass the House by a vote of 69-83, but Rep. Coon expressed hope for the future, as many freshmen legislators voted in favor of privatization.

Intern joins the paper

Helen Ubinas, daughter of Sixto and Maria Ubinas of Methuen, a student at Northern Essex Community College, joins the Andover Townsman with this issue as an intern. She will work with the staff through the summer.

Ms. Ubinas will write stories, attend some meetings and help the staff by processing press releases.

Ms. Ubinas is majoring in journalism and hopes to transfer to Boston University. At Northern Essex she is co-editor of the student newspaper, The Observer.

"I'm happy to have this opportunity," said Ms. Ubinas. "I plan to do as much as I can at the paper this summer."

Ms. Ubinas enjoys bicycling and running. She hopes to one day write for the New York Times.

Want to review movies?

Paper runs contest designed to find reviewer

The Townsman is looking for a young person or persons to write movie reviews for the summer.

The person should be at least 17 years old, a good writer, and someone who goes to the movies on a regular basis.

The Townsman will pay the admission price and give the reviewer a byline each time a review is published.

To determine who will write the reviews, the Townsman is asking those who are interested to see FX2, and to write a two-page, double-spaced, typed review and turn it in at the paper's offices, 89 N. Main St., by Thursday, June 13, at 5 p.m.

The paper will not pay for this trial review.

Here's a chance to try a canoe

Talk to experts about canoes and kayaks and how to use them to enjoy New England waters on Thursday, June 6, at Pumps Pond, Andover Recreation Park from 3 p.m. to dusk. Then actually paddle one or more models to see how they work.

More than 20 different paddle-powered watercraft models will be available for demonstration and free "test paddles" for anyone who wishes to try one.

This on-the-water clinic is presented by Moor & Mountain in Andover center and Mad River Canoes of Waitfield, Vt.

For more information, contact Moor & Mountain at 475-3665.

Pat Milam promoted

Patricia A. Milam has been promoted in the U.S. Army to the rank of staff sergeant.

Sgt. Milam is a community mail-room supervisor at Kreuzberg Kaserne, Germany.

She is the daughter of Clarence and J. Patricia McDonald of 48 Summer St.

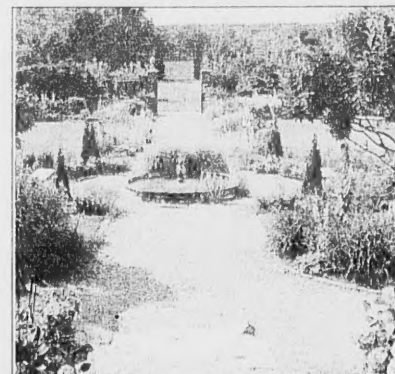

Her husband, Terry, is the son of N. Dale and Ellen Milam of Poteau, Okla.

The sergeant is a 1977 graduate of Andover High School.

The news calendar is on page 30 in today's Townsman. If you have an item for any of the paper's calendars, write it down, include a name and phone number and get it to the paper by 5 p.m. Monday.

BUSINESS

Rolling Green names new chef

The Rolling Green Host Hotel & Conference Center recently appointed David Symonds as the hotel's executive chef, according to the hotel's general manager, Phillip Bond.

Mr. Symonds' responsibilities involve supervising the hotel's entire food operations, including the Garden Court Restaurant, Andover Commons lounge, and all banquets and weddings.

Formerly executive chef at the Clarion Hotel in Nashua, N.H., Mr. Symonds has been a professionally trained chef for more than 20 years. A member of New Hampshire's Professional Chef's Organization, he was a gold medal winner in the 1982 Boston Food Show and a first-place winner in the 1986 Boston Harbor Chowder Fest.

According to Mr. Symonds, area residents can expect to find a "higher standard of food service when they next visit Rolling Green." He compares his culinary offerings to an upscale American bistro with European influences. In many of his dishes, Mr. Symonds prefers to emphasize fresh ingredients such as locally-grown mushrooms and carrots.

His popular favorite is an American-type seafood stew or bouillabaisse featuring native seafood and fresh New England vegetables.

Raytheon's diversity helps in recession

Raytheon Company's diversity is cushioning the impact of the current economic downturn, Dennis J. Picard, chairman and chief executive officer, said at the company's annual meeting recently.

"We look for the United States defense budget to experience an average real decline of about 4 percent per year over a five-year period. In spite of this decline, our government business will remain strong," Mr. Picard said. "We will continue to be a leader in the government business - in the United States and on an international basis."

He said Raytheon expects its international programs to increase by 50 percent over the next five years. Mr. Picard predicted that the company's growing commercial businesses, which now provide about half of the company's total sales, will also continue to provide increased contributions to the company's overall profits.

"Our five-year plan shows that we will

William Lane, president and CEO of Holy Family Hospital, poses with attorney Thomas J. Urbelis, president of the Andover Home for Aged People, with the new geriatric chair he donated to the hospital.

Robert Harris named a vice president of industrial manufacturer, AMETEK

Robert W. Harris of Andover has been elected a vice president of AMETEK Inc., according to Frank S. Hermance, group vice president of the Fortune 500 industrial manufacturer. Mr. Harris will continue to serve as general manager of the company's Aerospace Products Inc. subsidiary headquartered in Wilmington.

Mr. Harris joined AMETEK in August 1989 when the company acquired Aerospace Products Inc. (formerly Instrument Products Operation) in Massachusetts and Redmond, Washington, from General Electric.

He has served as general manager of that business since 1988.

Mr. Harris started his career with General Electric in 1966 as an engineer and held various engineering and sales positions before being appointed marketing manager of Instrument Products Operation in 1983.

Robert W. Harris

Under his management, AMETEK's Aerospace Products Inc. has grown to be a major supplier of aircraft jet engine sensors and signal conditioning electronics.

Born in Gettysburg, Pa., Mr. Harris earned a bachelor of science degree in electrical engineering from the University of Pennsylvania.

He served as a pilot in the U.S. Navy from 1961 to 1966 in the United States and Europe.

In 1970 Mr. Harris earned a master of science degree in engineering management from Northeastern University.

He and his wife, Rebecca, are the parents of two grown children, Lisa and Scott.

Listed on the New York Stock Exchange since 1930, AMETEK's 1990 sales topped $660 million, with Aerospace Products Inc. making a strong contribution to the company's performance.

achieve rough parity in sales and profits between government and commercial business segments over the next five years," the chairman said.

He reported that last year the company's aircraft segment achieved an 82 percent increase in pretax profits, while pretax profits in the energy and environmental segment grew by 58 percent.

Mr. Picard also strongly defended the performance of the company's Patriot air defense system during Operation Desert Storm.

"Patriot's performance in the Middle East ushered in a new era in air defense. Patriot became the first missile to intercept another missile in combat, and it did it again and again and again," he said.

"In Saudi Arabia high priority military targets...were spared severe damage and heavy loss of life." In Israel, Mr. Picard said Patriot provided a credible effective defense against a very dangerous threat.

He reiterated the company's stance that just under 90 percent of the Scud warheads directed at Saudi Arabia that were engaged by Patriot were destroyed or duded. In Israel, where various operational and population density factors affected the use of Patriot, Mr. Picard said about half of the Scud engagements resulted in confirmed destruction or duding of the warhead.

"Patriot gave the people of Israel an alternative to going on the offense. And as a result, Saddam Hussein was unable to crack the coalition and blur the focus of the war."

In addressing news reports about what may have happened when a Patriot was not launched against a Scud that struck a U.S. barracks in Dhahran, Saudi Arabia, on Feb. 28, Mr. Picard said there are a number of possibilities, but the U.S. Army has not released its official report.

"There is no such thing as an impregnable shield. There could have been an operational malfunction or the timeliness of maintenance or it's possible there was a timing situation with respect to the software. Whatever happened, we all feel the loss of those soldiers. And that tragedy also showed the horrible destructive power of the Iraqi Scud."

Mr. Picard also reported that the company is under Army contract to add enhancements to Patriot, which will allow it to engage incoming missiles at higher altitudes, further from defended areas. This will substantially increase the ground area defended by each missile unit.

Mr. Picard confirmed that there is also "additional strong foreign interest in the system, from countries such as Turkey and the U.K." Raytheon announced it will team with British Aerospace (Dynamics) Limited, to offer the Patriot as part of the solution to U.K. air defense requirements.

Mr. Picard said the company was moving aggressively in its commitment to using chemicals that are safe in the environment. And he used the meeting to announce a new environmental goal. He said EPA Administrator William K. Reilly asked Raytheon to join a voluntary program to reduce the emissions of 17 toxic chemicals by 50 percent by 1995.

Mr. Picard said Raytheon had already achieved the EPA's interim 1992 objective for these specific chemicals.

He stated that Raytheon, company-wide, had achieved an 84 percent reduction in emissions of suspected carcinogens from 1987 through 1990. Late last year Raytheon committed to one of the most ambitious goals in the electronics industry when it announced a goal to eliminate Freon 113 and methyl chloroform from its manufacturing operations by the end of 1992.

Heritage changes cable channels

Heritage Cablevision has changed its channel format, and many familiar programs aren't at the same numbers as before. A listing of all channels and changes can be found on the station menu broadcast on channels 2 and 11. Channel 19 lists a schedule of the station's programming.

Telecommunications Inc., Heritage's parent company, made the changes so its channel line-ups would be consistent across the country, said Charles Johnson, production manager at Heritage.

Mr. Johnson said the changes were included in customers' billing and have been listed on channels 2, 11 and 19 for the past week.

Here are some of the changes with the new Heritage channels listed first and the old number listed last: 3 is now WGBH, a Public Broadcasting Service channel out of Boston, formerly 16; 4 is now WBZ, an NBC affiliate out of Boston, formerly 17; 5 is now WCVB, an ABC affiliate out of Boston, formerly 18; 6 is now WLVI (Boston independent 56), formerly 23; 7 is now WHDH, a CBS affiliate out of Boston, formerly 19; 8 is now WSBK (Boston independent 38), formerly 21.

The Weather Channel can now be found on Channel 34. It was on Channel 3.

Some stations are staying the same, such as the pay movie channels like HBO. Others include CNN Headline News, the Home Shopping Network, Nickelodeon, the Family and Sports channels and MTV.

Heritage is also adding a few new programs to its line-up, including Court TV, a program on the court system on Channel 19, and Encore, a pay news service station on Channel 14.

Living proof that some of the biggest steps made by medicine are the smallest ones.

In a medical emergency, there's no question where the Froilan family will turn for help. Though other hospitals are the same distance away, New England Memorial holds a special place in their hearts. When Mr. Froilan required an emergency appendectomy, when son Roger, Jr., required emergency stitches, New England Memorial provided swift, skilled care. So when the tip of 3-year-old Lisa's toe was severed as a door closed on it, they knew exactly where to go.

What they didn't know, however, was how much specialized care Lisa's injury would require—above and beyond the stitches so often viewed as standard emergency room fare. To save Lisa's toe, New England Memorial emergency room specialists promptly recognized the need for plastic surgery and were able to respond because of a unique on-call arrangement that provides 24-hour-a-day plastic surgery coverage.

Today, Lisa is an active little gymnast who is probably too young to remember what happened to her toe. But her family will never forget. Living proof that quality emergency care can make a very big difference in a little one's life.

HISTORY

Bring your bear to tea

By Virginia Lopez Begg

It is not exactly the teddy bear picnic but the Andover Historical Society invites everyone to a teddy bear morning coffee on Tuesday, June 11, at 9:30 a.m. Visitors may bring their own teddies, as they enjoy homemade teddy bear refreshments and favors. The morning coffee committee will present a program on the history of teddy bears and guests are asked to share their own treasured memories of teddy bear lore.

A surprise guest, imposing but inanimate, will make a special appearance.

The morning coffee committee includes Barbara Loomer, Ruth Sherwood, Jan Henderson, Bernice Haggerty, Ruth Sharpe and Doris Newton. In their informal talk about teddy bear history, they will display some old and cherished examples of this favorite American toy. To go along with the theme of childhood memories, some antique toys from the society's collection will also be on view. All are reminders of an age before Nintendo and Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles.

Visitors will be an important part of the teddy bear morning coffee. All variations on the teddy bear theme, from Smoky the Bear to Winnie the Pooh, are welcome to share in the fun.

The morning coffees, sponsored by the Andover Historical Society, are designed to present local history in an informal way and to acquaint area residents with some of the rich store of artifact owned by the society. The society, at 97 Main St., is open Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Wednesday evenings until 8:30.

Amigos, in any language

By Christina Zappala

Andover High Spanish V students embarked on a unique cultural exchange last fall that brought them to a Lawrence nursing home to visit Hispanic senior citizens.

The one-hour visits every other Tuesday afternoon provided the advanced-placement students a chance to learn more about the Spanish-speaking cultures of Puerto Rico and the Dominican Republic, said Spanish teacher Bill Kolbe, who organized the program.

Many of the students said they were intimidated when they began the visiting programs. The senior citizens in the Lawrence elder group spoke very rapidly with Spanish accents from their own native land with which many of the young people weren't familiar.

Student Nancy Troy said the seniors' enthusiasm to share their experiences with the students was extremely encouraging. She said each visit was more exciting and rewarding than the last.

As the visits progressed so did the students' listening and speaking skills, said AHS student Rachel Zenofsky.

Listening was easy, she said, because each senior had an interesting and unique story to tell about his or her life and experiences and journeys to the United States. The seniors' stories of their life experiences gave the students a new perspective on the world, said Ms. Zenofsky.

During the students' last visit to Lawrence, the elder group gave a tour of a Hispanic photography display at the Lawrence Public Library. The two groups ended the year with the students taking the senior citizens on a tour of their school.

The seniors brought traditional Hispanic cooking to Andover High, and while the students tried that cuisine, the elders tried out cafeteria fare.

Saying goodbye to the elder group after developing such close, individual friendships was very sad, said Wendy Su.

The visits created a special understanding between the two groups that broke down the cultural and generation gaps, she said, adding that their wisdom made them like grandparents.

Christina Zappala is a senior at Andover High School.

Geraldine West, the pirate of the kindergarten

A retirement party will be held for Andover teacher Geraldine West at Shawsheen School Tuesday, June 4, from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m.

Mrs. West has taught in Andover schools for 21 years, primarily in first and second grades. In 1971, after teaching one year of kindergarten, she joined the faculty at Doherty Elementary School and taught first grade until its closing. She then taught at Bancroft Elementary School until she joined the Shawsheen School staff four years ago to teach kindergarten.

Mrs. West has been a leading proponent of changes in education. At Doherty she was involved in implementing the developmental primary program, which focused on changing the curriculum to meet the developmental needs of children. More recently she was active in promoting the use of Paideia seminars, a style of teaching that encourages better thinking skills through group discussion of a story or subject.

"Gerry is incredibly enthusiastic and really brings a gift to teaching," said Linnea Gershenberg, program coordinator of the Early Childhood Center at Shawsheen School. "She has such imagination, and her approach to storytelling is so dramatic that she soon has the children enraptured by even the simplest subject."

Mrs. West graduated from Pynchard High School in Andover and Salem Teachers College. She and her husband, Bob, raised two children who attended Andover schools, Scott and Robin.

Before coming to the Andover school system, Mrs. West worked for six years at the Cole School in Boxford.

Her co-workers at Shawsheen

School say they will miss her organizational skills, sense of humor and wild "theme earrings."

To her students, it seems, she is known for sharing their love of imagination. The essence of Mrs. West's teaching style was captured by Shawsheen student Katrina King, who thought Mrs. West's favorite game is the jewel game "because she gets to be a pirate and collect all the jewels."

The Wests have sold their Andover home and will relocate to Florida.

The public is welcome to join Katrina and all present and past students, friends and colleagues who will come together June 4 to thank Mrs. West for the years she spent sharing her enthusiasm with Andover's children.

Shawsheen School kindergartners will remember retiring teacher Geraldine West for her sense of humor, storytelling and earrings.

PTO honors principal

Bancroft Elementary School's Parent-Teacher Organization board will hold a reception for Iora Alexander Thursday, June 6, from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. in the school's media center. Mrs. Alexander is retiring after seven years as Bancroft's principal.

The PTO invites all parents, students (past and present), colleagues, teachers and friends.

Golf tournament benefits St. Augustine's

St. Augustine's Elementary School in Andover will hold its first golf tournament Monday, June 3, at the Andover Country Club.

The $75 per person donation includes all golf amenities, prizes, breakfast and lunch buffet. Proceeds from the tournament will benefit St. Augustine's School.

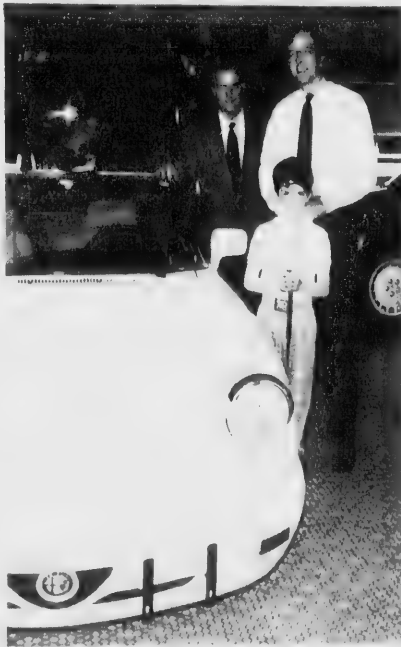

Among the prizes is a new Alfa

Romeo, to be displayed on the tournament date, which will be awarded in the event of a hole-in-one on the 11th hole. The car will be provided by Bill DeLuca Chevrolet-Pontiac in Bradford, which is sponsoring the tournament.

St. Augustine's Elementary School has been serving area families since 1914.

Andover Country Club was founded in 1925 by pioneering industrialist William Madison Wood, president of the American Woolen Co. Its 18-hole course was designed by architect Donald Ross.

Sponsorships are available. For golfer entry blanks and more information, call Michelle Widmer at 475-7189.

Why do smart kids fail?

Your child may be smarter than his or her grades show. Our certified teachers help children of all ages overcome frustration and failure, and realize their potential.

A few hours a week can help your child improve weak basic skills and regain confidence and motivation.

Our testing pinpoints problems and we tutor in reading, study skills, math, writing, phonics, vocabulary, spelling, grammar, SAT and SSAT prep. to help students of all grades do better in school.

STUDENTS IN THE NEWS

The academic achievements of an Andover resident were recognized by the University of New Hampshire's College of Engineering and Physical Sciences. Wayne E. Buschmann, a junior majoring in chemistry, received a Marie Louise Langelier Scholarship, given each year.

Established in 1980 by Wilfred F. Langelier in memory of his wife, the annual awards are made to undergraduate students, preferably from New England, who are concentrating their studies in chemistry, sanitary engineering, environmental engineering, environmental chemistry or chemical engineering.

The award was presented at the college's Johnson Theater, where more than 400 friends, family and faculty gathered to honor nearly 100 undergraduate award recipients during the department's annual awards ceremony.

Mr. Buschmann, a 1988 graduate of Andover High School, is the son of Ralph and Joan Buschmann of 44 Dascomb Road.

Wayne E. Buschmann

Two Andover students at Connecticut College in New London, Conn., were recognized at the college's honors and awards ceremony.

Junior Tracy Ann Burkholder received honorable mention in the Benjamin T. Marshall Prize for the best original poem.

Ms. Burkholder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren S. Burkholder of 1 Stafford Lane, is a 1988 graduate of Andover High School.

Rebecca Ann Cullen, a freshman, received the Russian Studies Department Prize for excellence in Russian and commitment to learning.

The 1990 graduate of Phillips Academy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Neil H. Cullen of 74 Bartlet St.

Kristyn M. Burt, a freshman at Connecticut College, is the recipient of the 1991 American Dance Festival Cooperative scholarship. This matching tuition grant from the festival and the college is for study at the 1991 summer dance festival at Duke University in Durham, N.C.

The festival's purpose is to encourage the development of each dancer's full potential and provide exposure to the wide range of opportunities in dance. The dance companies in residence during the six-week program will include Paul Taylor, Bill T. Jones and Pilobolus.

Ms. Burt, a dance and art history major, has been studying dance for 15 years. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard F. Burt of Andover, she studied at the Boston Ballet School, Portland School of Ballet and Stage-door Manor Performing Arts Training Center.

She was also a member of the Youth Dance Company at the Donna Miceli Dance Center in Tewksbury.

***

Eighty-two undergraduates at Brown University in Providence, R.I., including environmental studies major Jonathan Clough of Andover, have received assistantships that will allow them to collaborate closely with faculty mentors.

The assistantships, given through the Undergraduate Teaching and Research Assistantships and the Odyssey programs, will involve students either in faculty research or in course development and planning.

Odyssey projects are devoted to researching issues of race and ethnicity as they relate to a particular course and revising the course to incorporate those perspectives.

Students are nominated by faculty. As part of the application for the project, Mr. Clough and his faculty nominator had to write statements of their goals and the reason for the collaboration. He was chosen by a faculty committee.

St. Robert's offers scholarship

St. Robert's Country Day School has applications for a $250 scholarship, which will be awarded to a high school senior who is a graduate of the nursery school and planning to continue his or her education on the college level in September.

The scholarship was awarded for the first time in 1986 when the nursery school celebrated its 17th anniversary and also observed the graduation from college of its first nursery graduating class.

The scholarship will be awarded at the 10 a.m. graduation ceremony Wednesday, June 5, at St. Robert's.

To be eligible, an applicant must write an essay and fill out a questionnaire. These are being sent to guidance offices. Additional copies are at the nursery school.

Volunteers breathe life into play group

A weekly play group that meets in North Andover will be able to continue in the fall, thanks to a group of new volunteers.

Playful People, preschoolers and parents who get together Thursday mornings at Trinitarian Congregational Church on Elm Street, was going to shut its doors for good because of a lack of volunteers, said one of the coordinators, Julie Mangano.

"We're lucky," Ms. Mangano said, that enough people volunteered to enable the group to start again in the fall.

Playful People ended the season last week.

For more information on the group, call Ms. Mangano at 686-7525.

Our Home Equity Line of Credit is more about saving than spending.

Save on monthly loan payments.

With a Bank of New England Home Equity Line of Credit, you can pay off current auto loan, department store and credit card balances now, and save. Because you'll reduce your monthly credit obligations to a single payment, and could cut your finance charges almost in half.

Save on taxes.

Federal tax laws have completely eliminated deductions on credit card, auto loan and other unsecured loan interest. The Home Equity Line of Credit, however, is the exception to the rule—with interest still 100% deductible in most cases.

Save on major expenses.

The low interest and tax savings that make our Home Equity Line of Credit a cost-effective way to pay off your debts also make it a smart way to borrow for such expenses as college tuition and home improvement.

Save on closing costs.

At other banks, you'd probably pay closing costs on a new Home Equity Line of Credit. At Bank of New England, we'll save you at least $200 by waiving those costs if you apply by June 30, 1991.

Stop by any Bank of New England office, or call toll-free for more information or an application for a Home Equity Line of Credit today. And start saving.

The current annual percentage rate (A.P.R.) on our Home Equity Line of Credit is 10.50%. This rate may vary monthly and is based on the Wall Street Journal Prime Rate. The maximum A.P.R. is 18.00%. Consult a tax advisor regarding the deductibility of interest. Member FDIC.

PAC gives chess players a place for their pawns and more

The Andover High School's Parent Advisory Council voted to help underwrite several school activities. Contributing between $100 and $150 to various organizations, PAC put the money toward diverse purposes.

Because of PAC's contributions:

- The Chess Club got game boards and time clocks;
- Student government officers were able to meet in executive sessions because lunches were provided for them;
- Students were able to get rides to business competitions and the Junior Statesmen of America;
- A large bulletin board improves communications throughout the school;
- Student government bought workshop materials;
- Film was processed for the senior slide show for Senior Week;
- Band equipment will be replaced;
- Cheerleaders will get help buying new uniforms;
- The student advisory board will have new training materials.

The money came from the parents' annual membership dues.

"We're very grateful for the parents' financial support, which has enabled us to donate these monies to the many school activities and to help out a little in the various activities," said PAC President Marcia Miller.

"Our hope is that more parents will join PAC and take an active role. As we grow, we will be able to have greater parent participation and hence more opportunities to provide more services to our high school."

PAC also used funds to help support the high school's spring musical, Guys and Dolls, sponsored coffees for teacher/faculty meetings and organized an exchange between students and parents on teen-age drinking parties.

The group arranged a seminar on educational methods by Jane Batts, principal of an elementary/high school in Salem, N.H. Ms. Batts talked about the "4MAT" system of learning, which points out why some things work with some learner and not with others.

Andover High PAC parents also met with the accreditation team that visited the school.

New Hampshire educator Jane Batts led a seminar on learning styles. Her lecture was sponsored by the Parent Advisory Council.

"YOUR ACCOUNTANT WOULD AGREE WITH ME..."

"It makes good sense to make use of a home Equity Creditline. As an accountant (I'm a licensed C.P.A.), I'm well aware that a home Equity Creditline is the kind of lending that lets you take maximum advantage of tax breaks. Secondly, using an Equity Creditline to pay for truly important expenses like home improvement or education is very smart money management.

As a banker (I'm also the Treasurer and Controller of Andover Bank), I think you should know that when you apply for an Andover Bank Equity Creditline - or transfer your existing equity loan to Andover Bank from another bank - you'll find that we charge no attorney fees and no appraisal fees. If you apply for an Andover Bank Equity Creditline between now and July 5, we'll give you a $100 voucher which can be applied to your equity payment. Also, Andover Bank's Equity Creditline gives you lots of time and flexibility to use your funds. That's especially helpful for handling unexpected burdens like a tuition increase or a tree falling on your garage.

So if your accountant has advised you to take a close look at a home Equity Creditline, take a close look at Andover Bank. It doesn't cost a thing to apply, it doesn't cost a thing to transfer your equity loan from another bank, and our $100 voucher helps you save big money. With one close look, we're sure you'll agree that at Andover Bank, you're the most important customer we'll ever have."

BABY TALK

by Jack Resnick

Most expectant parents feel a little scared at the prospect of taking sole charge of a helpless baby for the first time. If you have this feeling, it doesn't mean that you won't be able to do a good job or that you have to have a nurse to show you how. But if you feel really panicky, you will probably learn more comfortably with an agreeable practical nurse or relative, if this can be arranged. If you can't have regular help, you may be able to afford and find a person to come in once or twice a week to do the cleaning, help you catch up on the housework, and watch the baby for a few hours while you go out for a visit.

There is a large selection of baby furniture available at TINY TOTLAND. Open 9-5:30. Mon. & Th. 9-9. We deliver anywhere. Toys for all ages. "heaven to seven". M/C & Visa honored. Free lay-away is available at TINY TOTLAND, 1111 Elm St., Manchester, NH Tel. 1-603-623-6171. "Where Quality Costs You Less."

ENTERTAINMENT

Andover artists' work exhibited in Marblehead

Elaine Meisinger and Gladys Brown of Andover are among a group of area artists who have been invited to display their work at the Marblehead Art Association in June.

The exhibit will run from June 1 to 23 with a gala reception Sunday, June 2, from 3 to 5 p.m. The gallery, in the King Hooper Mansion at 8 Hooper St., Marblehead, is open from 1 to 4 p.m. Tuesday through Sunday. Admission is free.

Ms. Brown is a graduate of Vesper George School of Art in Boston. She has been a costume designer and fashion illustrator but now enjoys painting still life and flowers. Recently she has been making monoprints as well.

Ms. Brown is a former president of the Andovers Artists Guild and a member of the Lynnfield and North Shore art associations.

Ms. Meisinger has a bachelor's degree in English from Chestnut College and a master of arts in education from Lehigh University. After many years of training in music, she transferred her interest to the visual arts, studying watercolor painting in workshops in Arizona, Maine, New Hampshire and Massachusetts.

She is a former president of the Andovers Artists Guild and for seven years chaired Art in The Park. Ms. Meisinger has won many awards for her work, at Art in The Park and elsewhere. She has taught drawing and watercolor at Northern Essex Community College and in her home.

The exhibit, "Expressions of Eight," will also display the work of other artists from the Merrimack Valley.

Singer/songwriter to perform at local coffeehouse

Cheryl Wheeler will appear at Crossroads Coffeehouse Saturday, June 8. Eve Goodman will be the opening performer.

The doors open at 7:15 p.m. for the 8 p.m. show.

Crossroads Coffeehouse is located at North Parish Unitarian Church, at the corner of Great Pond and Academy roads in North Andover, across from the old common. The church is accessible to the disabled.

Ms. Wheeler's music deals with complex human relationships that cannot be resolved in the commercial hook line. Her latest album, Circles and Arrows, her first for Capitol Records, showcases Ms. Wheeler's diversity. She crosses over the folk line into other genres like rock, pop and country.

Ms. Wheeler began her career in the 1970s in Rhode Island, where she became a well-known figure in the Newport folk scene. She appeared with Tom Rush, Gordon Lightfoot, Jonathan Edwards and others.

Mr. Edwards played a key role in her career, beginning in 1978 when he needed a bass player one month before a tour. Ms. Wheeler answered the call, bought herself a bass and learned the instrument and material in time for the tour.

Mr. Edwards produced her first album, Cheryl Wheeler. The album established Ms. Wheeler throughout the Northeast and elsewhere in the country, including Los Angeles. She recorded a second album, Half A Book, which was licensed to the LA-based

Cheryl Wheeler

Cypress/A&M label.

This album yielded a single called "Emotional Response" that climbed the charts, but the album itself became a victim of corporate upheavals.

Ms. Wheeler's songwriting has attracted other artists like Juice Newton, Linda Thompson and country group Sawyer Brown. Dan Seals recorded her song "Addicted" in 1988 and it went to number one on the country charts, earning Mr. Seals a Grammy for best male vocal.

Ms. Wheeler's album Circles and Arrows was produced by Mr. Seals and Randy Travis' producer, Kyle Lehning.

Admission is $8. Coffees, teas, and home-baked sweets will be sold before the concert and during the break.

Local resident in PA production

The student production of A My Name is Alice was presented to faculty, parents, friends and fellow students on the campus of Phillips Academy recently. Junior Stephen Sultan of Salisbury, Conn., directed the musical revue – a funny, sassy, often poignant expression of life as seen by women today.

Principal vocalists were juniors Shanti Crawford of San Francisco; Vanessa Hill of North Andover and Maki Hsieh of Taiwan; and seniors Kirsten Saunders of Laverock, Pa., and Alyssa Sullivan of Andover.

The production was rounded out with special appearances by juniors Sasha Alcott of Cambridge, Alex Lippard of New Brunswick, N.J., and seniors Dawn Peters and Anne Marie Ryan, both of North Andover. Piano accompanist for the 22-number revue was Natalie Altshuler, a junior from Boston.

Students managed all aspects of the production, including costume and set design, technical direction and stage crew. The students had been working on the show since mid-January and were able to demonstrate their talents in the four performances given last month.

Paper artist 'does it her way'

The new exhibit at Brush Gallery and Artists' Studios in Lowell features the work of about a dozen area artists whose individual approach to art, as expressed through their work, resulted in a show of extraordinary diversity.

Andover paper-collage artist Susan Johnson will be one of the exhibitors.

The show's title, "Naturally, I Did It My Way," underscores the show's theme, which is an exhibit of complementing contrasts that projects the artistic personalities of the people who "did it their way," said a gallery spokeswoman. The exhibit continues through June 30.

The public is invited to an opening reception for the artists Sunday, June 2, from 2 to 4 p.m.

The Brush Gallery is a non-profit organization open free to the public Tuesday through Saturday from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Sunday from 1 to 5 p.m.

Textile museum elects new trustees

Eight leaders in the fields of textile manufacturing, education law, retailing and development were newly elected trustees and members of the corporation of the Museum of American Textile History at the annual meeting May 2.

New trustees of the museum include Andover residents Melvin L. Weiner, president of BAS Environmental Inc., and Paul W. Cronin, president and chief executive officer of Riegel Textile Corp.

Previous members of the corporation elected as trustees include Karen Hansen Carpenter of Andover, chairwoman of the Merrimack Valley United Way.

Re-elected officers of the museum include Andover residents Dean K. Webster, secretary, and Robert M. Henderson, treasurer.

John O. Myers and Samuel S. Rogers, both of Andover, continue as trustees.

Andover residents John P. Fitzpatrick, James B. Hyman, Donald W. McNemar and John S. Sullivan were re-elected members of the corporation.

Another resident, Linda Carpenter, is the museum's new interim public programs supervisor. She has been an interpreter there since 1988.

Celebrating Filipino culture

The Filipino American communities of the New England region are organizing fiesta filipina '91, an all-day celebration of Filipino culture.

It will be held at Lowell Memorial Auditorium Sunday, June 2, from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Various Filipino American communities and organizations from Maine, New Hampshire, Massachusetts and Rhode Island are collaborating to bring a Philippine fiesta to Lowell. Fiesta filipina will offer activities for all ages and will give some a chance to learn more or others to reacquaint themselves with Filipino culture.

A Filipino food fair, children's games, a parade of native costumes, cooking demonstrations, native dance performances, folk music and contemporary Filipino music are some of the events available.

Among the featured performers are the PAMAS Dance Troupe and the Iskwelahan Pilipino Rondalla.

The dance troupe will perform an array of native Filipino dances ranging from the agility and endurance of the tinikling to the colorful pangalay.

The Iskwelahan Pilipino Rondalla, a string ensemble made up of students and alumni of the Iskwelahan Pilipino (Filipino School), have toured the United States and the Philippines.

According to the 1990 census, the Filipino community is the largest Asian ethnic group in the United States. The census indicates that the New England area was among the largest percentage gainer in Asian or Pacific Islander population.

Tickets are $10 for adults, $3 for children and free for infants. They are available at the Lowell Memorial Auditorium box office.

Ninety dancers, singers, musicians and craftspeople will recreate a Russian Village at Merrimack College June 23.

Take part in Russian village life Musicians, dancers, singers and more

Folk dances, music and crafts from the northern Russian countryside will be featured in the Russian Village Folk Festival presented by Merrimack College Sunday, June 23, from 2 to 5:30 p.m. at Austin Hall Field on the college's North Andover campus. Admission is free.

The company of 90 dancers, singers, musicians and craftspeople from the Soviet Union will recreate the fabled Russian Village Festival called "gulanye" or "festivity." The festival is a colorful mosaic of village life, molded into a show of traditional ensembles and authentic folk performances that reflect the cultural diversity of the vast Russian Federation, which stretches from Europe to Siberia.

Village performers of all ages take part in the festival from youngsters to elder "babushkas" wearing elaborate authentic 18th- and 19th-century costumes. Traditional Russian customs, such as foods, crafts, woodcarving and weaving, will be displayed.

Kids' theater modernizes Frog Prince

The Children's Theatre in residence at Maudslay State Park in Newburyport presents David Mamet's The Frog Prince. This modern retelling of the classic fairy tale is full of wit, wisdom and philosophy.

The story is told from the prince's point of view.

The play will be performed Saturdays and Sundays at 2 p.m. through June 23. Tickets are $6.

Quilt-makers cover gallery walls with favorite pieces

The gallery walls of the New England Quilt Museum, 256 Market St., Lowell, are transformed with the exhibition of quilts by Gwen Marston and Joe Cunningham, quilt-makers, authors, lecturers and teachers from Beaver Island, Mich.

"Up to This Point" will be on display through June 30.

The artists have made 140 quilts characterized by elaborate and extensive quilting. They describe the quilts in this show as the ones they like best.

Sen. Kerry hosts cable show

Do you want to know what your senators in Washington are doing?

John Kerry, U. S. senator from Massachusetts, has been using cable television to talk to and with his constituents. In a monthly half-hour program called John Kerry's Cable Town Meeting, the senator discusses current issues with experts and invites viewers to call in and ask questions during the program.

Sen. Kerry's show airs on the first Tuesday of the month at 7:30 p.m.

Due to conflicts with Andover School Committee broadcasts, Heritage Cablevision and Merrimack College will bring these programs to cable viewers on Channel 13.

MECCA-13 is the Merrimack College station. The next Cable Town Meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, June 4, at 7:30 p.m. The next broadcasts will be on July 9, also on cable Channel 13.

Women & Pre-Nuptial Agreements

If you are contemplating marriage or remarriage, you may be concerned that you will risk the eventual loss of some or all of your property or other assets in the event of a dissolution of your marriage by death or divorce. You may also be uneasy about raising these concerns with your prospective husband because you do not wish to seem unromantic or greedy. A properly negotiated and drafted pre-nuptial agreement can often address these very genuine concerns. The assistance of a lawyer in the negotiation and drafting process is essential if you wish your agreement to be valid and enforceable at some later time.

Jewish religious school holds open house

In an unlikely location, Congregation Tifereth Israel kicked off its efforts to rebuild the religious school.

Concurrent with the congregation's efforts to relocate to Andover from Lawrence, one major goal, that of establishing a family-oriented religious school for Conservative Jewish children, was accomplished.

With the help of St. Augustine Church in Andover, about 30 students attended classes this year at the church's education center.

The congregation has its Lawrence synagogue on the market and is looking for a permanent location in Andover, said spokesman Rich Maltzman.

There are no Conservative synagogues in the Andover/Lawrence area,

Mr. Maltzman said.

The religious school offered a curriculum for students ages 4 to 9 under the direction of Deborah Coltin.

Ms. Coltin anticipates many more students next year.

An open house will be held at the education center, 1 St. Augustine Drive, Monday, June 3, at 7:30 p.m.

RELIGION

Bishop Methodios

Bishop visits Greek church

His Grace Bishop Methodios, bishop of Boston, will perform an archierarchal divine liturgy Sunday, June 2, at 10 a.m. at Sts. Constantine and Helen Greek Orthodox Church of Greater Lawrence, 71 Chandler Road.

An archierarchal liturgy can be conducted only by a bishop.

The spiritual leader of the Greek Orthodox church in the six New England states will make his official visit to the parish in conjunction with the recent feast of the church's patron saints.

He will also congratulate the church's pastor, the Rev. Dr. George A. Karahalios, on the recent celebration of the 35th anniversary of his ordination. This will be the bishop's first visit to the community in more than two years.

Rev. Methodios will also participate in the graduation of the church's Sunday school. He will distribute graduation certificates at the close of the liturgy. Group photographs will be taken after the liturgy with the members of the parish council, Ladies Philoptochos Society, choir, altar boys, parent-teacher association and Sunday school.

Free Christian has healing service

The public is invited to a healing service at Free Christian Church, 31 Elm St., Wednesday, June 12, at 7:30 p.m.

The Rev. Canon Mark Pearson, regional warden of the Order of St. Luke of the Episcopal Church, will teach on Jesus' words about healing in the Gospel of Luke.

Canon Pearson has been active in the church's healing ministry since 1975. He trains healing teams in local churches and has conducted healing services throughout the United States and Canada and in several other foreign countries.

Author of the recently published book Christian Healing, Canon Pearson is president of the Institute for Christian Renewal in Erie, Pa.

Prayers for divine healing—physical, relational, emotional, spiritual—will be offered after worship, which includes contemporary Christian music and the sacrament of Communion. The service is under the direction of Free Christian Church Congregational and the pastor, the Rev. Dr. Jack L. Daniel, and associate pastor, Rev. Neil D. Olcott. The church is accessible to the disabled.

Two flea markets planned for weekend

This Sunday will be a busy one for flea market aficionados.

Both the Sisterhood of Congregation Tifereth Israel and the Peabody Jewish Community Center are planning bazaars June 2.

The temple, located at 492 Lowell St., Lawrence, will hold its flea market from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. The rain date is June 9.

Items to be sold will include bric-a-brac, flowers and plants, jewelry, assorted household goods, baby toys, antiques, books, cosmetics and miscellaneous odds and ends.

Proceeds will be designated for the new Congregation Tifereth Israel building fund.

Meanwhile, at the community center, Family, a new Jewish band that plays classic and contemporary Jewish music, will entertain. Doors open at 10 a.m. and close at 6 p.m., rain or shine. The center is located at 637 Lowell St. in Sym's Plaza in Peabody.

Tables at the flea market will display baseball and other sports cards, new and used items, jewelry, needlecrafts, toys, hand-decorated clothing, housewares and giftware.

Michaela Cullen and Jillian Rosa, both of Haverhill, had a good time decorating their mode of transportation for the Memorial Day celebration in Andover last Monday.

Remembering to say thanks to town's veterans

Susan Deyermund came from Methuen with her two children, Bryan and Meghan, to see Andover's Memorial Day parade.

Craig Liversidge and his daughter, Tabitha, had a ringside seat for Monday's parade.

there. So when his daughter, Maryann Jordan, invited him to come to Andover and live with her family, it was not a tough decision for the 85-year-old retiree.

"She says, 'Dad. That will be the best for you,'" Mr. McGee says. "I didn't want to be sitting in a house all by myself. I didn't want to be alone. What could I do?"

His house in Yorktown, N.Y., in Westchester County, was too big for just him. It was paid for, but he didn't want to rent it. So he sold it and nine months ago moved in with his daughter, her husband, Robert, and their two boys, John, 13, and Charles, 11, at 1 Belle Haven Drive.

"They're enough to drive you nuts," Mr. McGee says of his two grandsons. "Boys are the worst to have. Give me girls."

He actually gets along wonderfully with his grandchildren, Mr. McGee says, and his daughter agrees.

"There's no problem between my father and them, except television shows," Mrs. Jordan says.

The kids like cartoons and her dad doesn't, so he goes to his room and watches the shows he prefers, or to pray, or he takes walks. When there are shows they all like, they watch together.

"They watch Perfect Strangers together," she says of her dad and the kids.

Other times they might play checkers or cards together.

"We go to the movies together. He gets out," she says. "It's an easy way of living. No one gets on each others' nerves."

Before inviting her dad to move in, Mrs. Jordan made sure it was going to be all right with her husband.

"You have to take your spouse into consideration strongly," she says. "Personalities are important, that they don't cross like hot irons."

Fortunately, she says, her husband is very easy going and he and her father get along. And her dad gives the family plenty of space.

"My husband doesn't even know he's in the house sometimes because he's so quiet," she says.

Mr. McGee agrees that things are going well.

"Fine. Wonderful," he says.

Born in NYC

Mr. McGee was born in New York City and worked as a security guard for the Railway Express Company, a government agency, until he retired at 70.

"That was the railway express. They're out of business. United Parcel took them over," he says.

He and his wife had three sons and a daughter. One son died very young. Another lives in California with his family and the third lives in New Jersey.

When Mrs. Jordan and her husband first started a family they were living in Yorktown and Mr. McGee and his wife moved there from New Jersey to be near their grandchildren, according to Mrs. Jordan.

In May of 1983 her husband took a job in Boston and the couple moved their family to Andover.

Before her dad moved here last August, Mrs. Jordan was always driving to Yorktown for school breaks and vacations to spend time with her father. The three-and-a-half hour drive was wearing and could be difficult in rough weather. If her dad got sick it was very difficult to be so far away.

"The distance blows things out of proportion," she says.

Now Mr. McGee is back with his daughter and her family.

Senior Center

When he first moved in, Mr. McGee would sit on the sofa at the house and watch his daughter do housework. Then he would want to take her out to lunch, partly because he felt guilty she had to make him lunch and partly because he had nothing else to do.

Mrs. Jordan wanted to please her father even though she would have just as soon eaten at home. But then Mr. McGee found the Senior Center on Whittier Court.

"The center really has filled a void in his life," Mrs. Jordan says. "If he didn't have the center he really would go bugs. And us too."

Mr. McGee takes the Weebus to the Senior Center, where he catches a movie, plays a game with a friend or takes a walk to the stores uptown.

"It's wonderful," he says, adding that the senior center he knew in New York can't compare to Andover's.

Andover's population of elderly people has grown in 10 years

Andover is getting older.

Not just the buildings and the trees, but the people.

A greater percentage of the town's population is in the 65-and-over age group today than 10 years ago, according to town and federal census figures, and this group is expected to continue to grow in the years ahead.

This changing population presents challenges to the town.

For starters, the Andover Housing Authority and the town's planning department have to find ways to increase the availability of housing for the elders, including low-income and congregate housing and nursing homes. The Council on Aging has to maintain and develop more services and activities for the aging population.

The elders themselves must deal with issues of health care and health insurance, holding onto their homes in tough economic times, dwindling retirement benefits, transportation and entertainment.

Who are the older in Andover? What are the problems and issues they face and what are they doing to remain an active and an integral part of the community?

These are some of the questions and issues the Townsmen will expose and examine in a series of articles that will run from time to time. Here are some of the basic facts.

Population

Andover had 26,405 residents in 1980, 2,542, or 9.6 percent, of whom were 65 years old or over, according to Donnelly Demographics, a census source used by the town.

In 1988 the population was up to 27,406, with 3,146, 11.5 percent, over 65. By 1993, 3,727 of the forecast 27,641 residents, 13.5 percent, are expected to be 65 or over.

In 1980, 1,617 residents over 65 were women and 925 were men. In 1988, 1,917 were women and 1,229 were men. By 1993 the women in that age group are expected to number 2,247 and men 1,480.

And he likes getting the lunch at the center for just 50 cents.

"The meals you can't beat," he says.

The employees and volunteers at the center made an effort to make her father comfortable right away, Mrs. Jordan said.

"He said he felt at home when he came to the center," she said. "He doesn't miss a day."

Her dad shares some of what goes on at the center with the family and they share their own days with him around

The median age of the overall adult population in Andover increased from 42.3 in 1980 to 43.3 in 1988 and is expected to be 44.8 by 1993.

Income of the elderly

In 1980, 1,580 of the town's 8,688 households belonged to those 65 and over. Of those, 1,002 households, or 63.4 percent, earned less than $15,000. Another 28, or 1.8 percent, earned over $75,000. The median household income of this elderly group was $11,826, compared with an overall town median of $27,145 per household, according to federal figures.

In 1989, 2,018 of the town's 9,727 households belonged to the 65-and-over age group. Of those, 635, 31.5 percent, earned under $15,000 and 168, 8.3 percent, earned over $75,000. The median income for the 65-and-over household was $24,373 in 1989 compared to $54,044 overall.

By 1994, 2,310 of the town's 10,096 households are expected to belong to the 65-and-over age group. Approximately 650 of those, 28.1 percent, will have under $15,000 annual household incomes and 258, or 1.2 percent, will earn over $75,000. The median household income in 1994 is expected to be $27,515 for those 65 and over, compared to an average household income in town of $58,270.

Housing for seniors

The Andover Housing Authority currently manages 218 housing units for the elderly, some of which are partially funded by the state. Preference is given to Andover residents for placement in these units, and in some instances to minority applicants, according to the AHA.

Chestnut Court has 42 units; Grandview Terrace, 40 units; Frye Circle, 96 units; and Stowe Court, 40 units.

Occupants must be at least 62 years old or disabled to live in these complexes. The income limits to meet eligibility requirements are $19,488 per year for one person and $22,272 for two people. There is also an asset limit of $15,000.

the supper table.

Bingo is one of his favorite activities and last weekend he attended the Senior Prom. Mrs. Jordan didn't pay much heed when he said he was taking a limousine to the prom until she saw the luxury car pull up to the house when it was dropping him off.

"I said, 'Oh my God, it really was a limo.' It really was like going to the prom," she says.

Mrs. Jordan says it could be different with a mother at home instead of a father. She says that her mother would have been more involved in life around the house and less likely to spend as much time at the Senior Center.

"He's quieter. Men just don't talk about the same things," she says.

But Mr. McGee is willing to go out and meet people his own age with whom he shares songs and music.

"My father was more outgoing socially, so this fit with his lifestyle," she says. "He's a survivor. He's that kind of person that would survive a disaster."

Making it work

Mr. McGee was hesitant to talk about what his financial arrangements are with his daughter and son-in-law, but indicated that he wasn't out for a free ride.

"You have to do something, I'll tell you that," he says.

He makes his own bed, "So she doesn't have to," and pretty much cleans up after himself.

Sometimes, if the boys' parents want to go out, he's there to stay with the kids. But for the most part, he tries to let his daughter live her own life.

"That's why I come here everyday, so I wouldn't bother her, let her go her own way," he says one day last week at the senior center.

One of the first things she did when her dad came to Andover was to take him to the Lahey Clinic, where her family goes for their medical needs to make sure he'd have a doctor.

"That was the first priority after he moved, the medical," she says.

Her father has cataracts developing in his eyes and has high blood pressure, but seems to be healthy otherwise.

The Jordans are planning to add a bedroom for Mr. McGee onto the back of their four-bedroom home. Right now Mr. McGee uses the guest room.

"This way he'd have his own room and his privacy," his daughter says. "These are some of the things you have to think of if someone would live in the house. Where would they live?"

Part of the money Mr. McGee has from the sale of his house will pay for the addition on the Jordans' home. Even though he is healthy now, the first-floor bedroom will avoid problems with the stairs for her and her dad should he have any health problems in the future.

"God willing, he will stay healthy and be able to stay here," she says. "We'd rather take care of him here."

The children

Mrs. Jordan hopes the boys get something out of having their grandfather live with them.

"I think they get an idea about what things were like when he was growing up," she says.

'You have to do it in a gentle way. You can't tell an adult at 86 that he can't do it. It's one of his few pleasures.'

She also thinks they get an understanding of what someone their grandfather's age has to deal with and hopefully gain a respect for older people.

"You just hope the kids are able to see things in a different perspective," Mrs. Jordan says.

The whole family used to take walks together, but Mr. McGee doesn't walk as far anymore and pretty much goes out on his own. Besides, that's when he gets to sneak a cigar.

Mrs. Jordan laughs when she tells of running into her father one day last week downtown with his cigar.

He was crossing the street and didn't see her so she snuck up behind him, grabbed his arm and asked if she could "help an old man" cross the street. She startled him and she could tell he was conscious of having the cigar in his other hand.

She and the family would like him to quit smoking, and he sometimes tries to let them believe he has, but his daughter isn't fooled.

"I can tell. His giveaway is the cough," she says.

The compromise they reached was that he doesn't smoke in the house.

"You have to do it in a gentle way. You can't tell an adult at 86 that he can't do it," she says. "It's one of his few pleasures."

Would Mr. McGee's and the Jordans' situation work for every child and parent?

"It depends on how they get along whether it would work for anyone," Mr. McGee says.

"There are things you have to learn to compromise with. You have to be flexible," Mrs. Jordan says. "It really is amazing that things have worked out for us. As long as he can keep his health. If you're healthy you can do anything. He has a positive outlook on life."

a small reception following the ZBA hearings scheduled for 6:30 p.m. on Thursday, June 6, on the second floor of Memorial Hall Library. The reception will be catered by John's Deli, recipient of 13 variances during Mr. Whitney's time on the board.

Selectmen were scheduled to begin interviewing candidates for two open positions on the board on Monday night, June 3. The other position was vacated by Wallace Bolton who resigned earlier this year.

Jane Griswold, a member of the board for the last 15 years and who retreated to an associate member position earlier this year to spend more time with her family, asked if she could sit on the board for Mr. Whitney's last meeting next Thursday.

"We've been a really good team," Ms. Griswold said.

She credits Mr. Whitney with setting the official tone of the board, which has made making unbiased decisions easier. The legal statement read at the beginning of each meeting is the best example of what he's done for the board, Ms. Griswold said.

"It sets the stage for us being a judicial body with rules," she said.

The reason for the "off the record" compliments for Mr. Whitney is to keep consistency, according to Ms. Schwing. Mr. Whitney has always been a big joker, Ms. Schwing said, and she saw no reason to stop the friendly antagonism for a mere retirement.

On St. Patrick's Day, a big event on Ms. Schwing's calendar, Mr. Whitney typically sends her something orange instead of the celebratory green. Last year he sent her a Passover card.

A joker, yes, but serious when it comes to business, Mr. Whitney described himself as "somewhat of a workaholic," during an interview this week.

Mr. Whitney has worked countless hours researching board decisions on decks too close to lot lines and additions too large for their surroundings, but the issue that had the greatest impact on the town, according to all sources, were the comprehensive permits that resulted in the construction of three low income housing projects in town.

"He took Andover through the comp permits," said Ms. Schwing "He put more hours in during that period."

Seven comprehensive permit applications reached the board in 1987-88. The applications were from contractors who wanted to develop condominium complexes with some low income units in order to qualify for state funding. The comprehensive permits were a method to help the ZBA wave some zoning regulations that might otherwise have stopped the developments.

Abbot's Pond, Brookside Estates and Riverview Commons were approved. Three others were disapproved and the seventh, in Ballardvale, was never built before state money "dried up," according to Mr. Whitney.

"The board held at least two hearings in regard to each permit," Mr. Whitney said.

Each hearing was two to four hours long and additional time was spent with expert advisors and the town's legal counsel.

"For sheer volume of work, those comprehensive permits probably took more of the board's time in a limited time period than anything else," Mr. Whitney said.

Most outrageous requests

The most outrageous request he could recall was for a deck, Mr. Whitney said.

"They came before the board for a deck that was already on the house," he said.

The party explained that the 12-foot deck was "a mistake," where the plans called for two or three steps.

"The board said no way," he said.

The most difficult denial was for a business operating out of a house in a residential neighborhood, which a neighbor was complaining about. Even though the board recognized that the business was a service to the public, it was in a residential area and had to be denied.

"That was a very difficult problem for the board," he said.

Where are we headed

Mr. Whitney praised the town for a decision that was made before his time on the board. He called the decision to set aside certain areas for industrial development, including the area in West Andover across Interstate 93, as "one of the most far

Making a commitment to seniors

In 1980, 9.6 percent of Andover residents, 2,542 people, were 65 or older. In 1988, 11.5 percent of the population was 65 or older. The forecast for 1993 is that 13.5 percent of the town's forecasted population of 27,641, or 3,727, are expected to be older than 65.

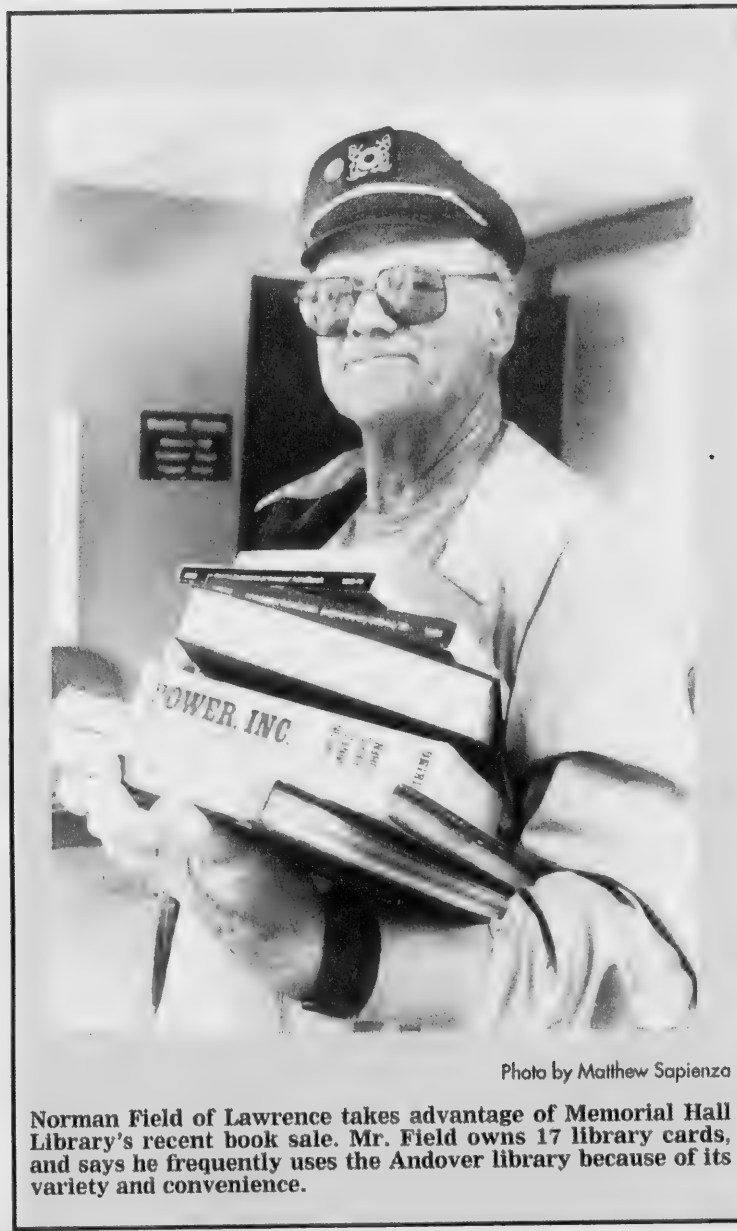

Andover's population of elderly people is growing. At Andover's Senior Center on Whittier Court, Mary Byrne, director of the Council on Aging and the center, is paying attention to the needs of this group. She knows what makes older people tick and she is designing programs with a capable staff to keep up with the seniors' needs.

The Townsmen joins Ms. Byrne in reaching out to its elderly population. With this issue, the paper is beginning a series of articles on the elderly that will run from time to time. We will look at senior citizens' needs, where they live, what they do for entertainment and what support services are available to them here.

If you or your agency would like to be included in this series, call anyone on the Townsmen's editorial staff and register your suggestions.

One article will be a listing of entertainment that is available to the elderly in this area. If your church, organization or agency offers an activity for the elderly, please write that down and send it to the Townsmen. And include a name and phone number, in case we have questions.

In some societies, the elderly population is revered because it has gained years of knowledge about life. America is learning but still has a way to go in understanding the value of its older people. When we realize what they have to offer and what they have done for us, only then will we take care of them properly.

Norman Field of Lawrence takes advantage of Memorial Hall Library's recent book sale. Mr. Field owns 17 library cards, and says he frequently uses the Andover library because of its variety and convenience.

The final chapter on Ethel the dog

By Perry Catlin

A friend who has been following the saga of my aging dog says I must now write and tell you we did it. A week ago today we put down Ethel, our 14-year-old Golden Retriever.

I had thought I'd skip blubbering in public anymore than I already have about dear Ethel, but my friend said it's only right to let you know what happened. Besides, when I first wrote about how we needed to do it, I found out there are scores and scores of people who have been through it.

I had written that I was pretty sure I didn't want to be there when we put her down. I had said - incorrectly, it turns out - that my friend had been there when her beloved dog was put down and she said she wouldn't do that again. I misunderstood her. She meant she wouldn't have held her dog while the veterinarian did it, if she had it to do over again. But she would be there.

My son was worried Ethel would be afraid because she always has been, when she smells the medicine-smell of the office. He thought he could offer some comfort when she realized where she was.

So my son and I arrived last Thursday for an 8 a.m. appointment. It all happened so quickly. Ethel was clearly very uncomfortable. She was panting and sinking and so was I.

"You know, we don't have to stay," I was saying to my 19-year-old son, losing my nerve and wishing I were three counties away. "We can change our mind."

He was clear he wanted to be there, so I took a breath and decided to be there, too.

The veterinarian confronted us with an option we didn't know we'd have to face. Did we want to hold Ethel, put a squeeze on her paw to bring forth a vein, or did we want an assistant to come in and help. We chose the latter, which my son later regretted because the assistant clamped a large hand over poor Ethel's muzzle.

My son placed his arms around Ethel and I stood by his side and

Commuting costs are a problem

Editor, Townsmen:

The proposed fare hikes for the MBTA are planned to be implemented in July. Presently I pay $90 a month to ride from Andover, for which I receive commuter rail access anywhere in the system to Zone 5, including complete usage of the MBTA subways.

In addition, last fall, parking fees were instituted, costing those that park in the MBTA lot $1 per day - an average of $21 or more per month. The proposed raise in fare for Zone 5 is from $90 to $104. The parking and riding fees together add up to $111 per month presently, with a proposed increase to $125 per month. As a passenger of commuter rail for the past 19 months, I think the huge increase of 15.5 percent in my zone is unfair and unnecessary.

I am a young entrant into the Boston finance field, still living at home to cut down on expenses. I find the cost of commuting already discouraging. These monthly costs, coupled with expenses of owning an automobile, absorb a huge fraction of my monthly income. I am very proud

TOWNTALK

On Sunday, June 2, nearly 30 Andover High School students and other Andover-area residents will join 25,000 others in Boston for a 10-kilometer pledge walk to benefit AIDS prevention and care. Last year's "From All Walks of Life" raised $2 million to support the programs of the AIDS Action Committee and other AIDS-service providers in Massachusetts.

The 1991 walk coincides with the 10th anniversary of the first reported Acquired Immune Deficiency case to the Centers for Disease Control.

Some of the students involved in organizing the event are John Eastham-Tapia, Melissa McCarty and Julie Doherty.

Ms. McCarty became involved in the cause when someone she knows, who is HIV positive, approached her and asked if she would get involved in the cause.

"I want to help in anyway I can. Getting pledges and doing the Boston walk is a start," she said.

For more information on the walk and to get pledge sheets contact Paula Gray, the Peer Leadership coordinator at the high school.

Four-year-old David Scanlon celebrated an extra special Memorial Day this year, his first as a U.S. citizen. David, who is Korean-American, was adopted by Pat and Connie Scanlon, of 34 Washington Ave., as an infant.

David became a citizen at a "very simple ceremony," at the John F. Kennedy Building in Boston, according to his mother.

He joins his sister, 6-year-old Janis, who became a citizen at the age of 2. Janis, says her mom, is "very proud of her dual heritage."

Janis, also Korean-American, will be a first-grader in the fall.

wrapped my arms around my son. We must have been a sight. In fact, at one point, the doctor said he needed more room than we'd allowed.

Both of us talked to Ethel. "You're a good girl, Ethel, the best. Good girl, Ethel," and so on. And she was.

The reason I am so glad I stayed is because it happened so fast, Ethel never struggled, and even though she wouldn't sit when we asked her to, she didn't seem stressed or worried. If I hadn't been there, I'm sure I would have tortured myself with how terrible it must have been for her.

She had the shot in her arm and very quickly she began to sit down, almost like an elephant in the circus who is getting down so her mistress can get on her back. Then she lay down on her side. And she was dead.

No more panting, no more looking worried, no more struggling to get up. Driving home in the car, my son said she looked 10 years old again when she was dead.

I cried and cried in the office and as the veterinarian handed me a wad of paper towel, I told him my father had just died 10 days earlier, as if I had to give him a reason for coming unglued over dog death. I would have cried just as much, even if the terrible loss of my father were not mixed up with the loss of my dog.

I miss Ethel terribly, and so does Sophie, our almost-4-year-old Golden, who still wanders about, looking for her companion. My kids say I'm projecting when I say Sophie is sad, but I think she is.

Now they talk about getting a puppy. But for now, Sophie, and Jack, our old cat, are enough. We have plenty to digest and get used to without adding another life to our nest. For now.

DOWN THE YEARS

100 years ago, May 1891

The widow of the late Capt. O.H. Perry died in Boston last week. This family will be remembered as owning the place now occupied by Geo. H. Torr.

Alice and Malcolm, children of Andrew McTurnen, had a pleasant little birthday party yesterday afternoon.

Employees of the Butcher Floor Co., of Boston, are putting new floors in the house occupied by Prof. Harris.

William Lunan has entered the employ of Thompson & Brown, the well-known booksellers of Boston.

John Cornell has purchased three new nice appearing draft horses.

C.B. Mason is making repairs on several buildings in town.

Francis H. Foster is to build a storehouse 30 x 40 feet at his farm on Central St.. C.B. Mason will do the work.

The baseball game Wednesday afternoon between Phillips and Haverhills was given to Andover by the umpire 9 to 0, because in the last inning the Haverhills became dissatisfied with a decision of the umpire and refused to play. The real score when play was stopped was 8 to 6 in favor of Phillips.

The May festival at St. Augustine's Church was well attended and much enjoyed. The refreshments, fancy articles, flowers, etc., found a ready sale. The vestry presented a pretty appearance, and the committee who had charge may feel pleased over the result of their efforts.

Miss Wiltse, for many years associated with Mrs. Quincy Shaw's benevolent work in Boston, spent the Sabbath at Abbot Academy, giving to may of them new insight into the lives of the poor in our cities.

The Indian Ridge Rebekah Lodge held their regular business meeting on last Monday. Two new members were initiated into the lodge.

Charles L. Curtis, formerly principal of Punchard High School, has been appointed principal of the high school in Winchester, going from Milton where he has been principal for six years.

Charles F. Johnson, who died Thursday morning at his home in North Andover, had a large circle of friends in Andover where he was well known. His ninety-third birthday occurred last Tuesday and for some years, he has held the Boston Post cane as the oldest man in North Andover.

to contribute to alleviating the traffic congestion, pollution and waste in our community, but feel penalized by the MBTA for choosing to ride the train over driving my own car.

If this was a top-notch rail system that provided impeccable service, I would be more willing to pay the extra money. However, a plague of ongoing commuting disappointments have kept my confidence in the system low. Some of the poor experiences I have been subjected to include poor heating and cooling on train cars, broken-down trains, having to walk half a mile in a suit on a rocky track bed, waiting for late trains in bad weather, riding packed standing-room-only trains, waiting for the implementation of double decker train cars promised since October 1990, traveling at 5 mph because of signal problems, waiting in a mobbed T station to go through the one or two working passreaders and being ticketed by the Andover police in the MBTA lot for parking in an "unmarked" space when there were no marked spaces left.

In the present proposed plan, those riders of just the subway who buy 10 tokens at once will avoid the increase and pay only $7.50, while those who buy them individually will pay $1. Why should these inner city riders be singled out to receive a discount when commuter rail riders will pay well over $100 a month for a pass?

I am sure that passengers of the commuter rail bring in a huge revenue to the MBTA. If a new fare hike is implemented, I believe that many riders, including myself, will seek alternate forms of transportation. While the MBTA may be in need of more cash, an overhaul this large of the whole fee structure would upset the MBTA riding public.

Hearing is on 495 off-ramps

Massachusetts Department of Public Works Commissioner James J. Kerasiotes has announced that a public hearing will be held at the City Council Chambers, Town Hall, Lawrence, Thursday, June 13, at 6 p.m.

The hearing will be held by the state DPW to provide the public an opportunity to become fully acquainted with the proposed permanent closure of the northbound/southbound off-ramps to Route 495 located between Massachusetts Avenue and Sutton Street. Both ramps have been temporarily closed since November 1989.

Written views received by the department up to five days prior to the date of the hearing will be displayed for public inspection at the time and date listed above. Statements go to: Michael W. Swanson, Chief Engineer, MDPW, 10 Park Plaza, Boston, 02116-3973.

Understanding Chiropractic

by Mark F. DeLorenzo, D.C.

CONSERVATIVE DISC CARE

Anyone who has been diagnosed as having a "slipped", "torn", "ruptured" or "prolapsed" disc may want to visit the chiropractor before entertaining any suggestion of surgery. Decisions to undergo this invasive form of treatment may be based on such sophisticated diagnostic techniques as "CAT" scans or myelograms, but neither is necessarily one hundred percent infallible in assessing disc damage. It is estimated that less than 20 percent of the conditions, which display classic symptoms of disc involvement, actually implicate discs that require surgery. In these cases, a disc may be damaged beyond the body's ability to repair it. Otherwise, the person who experiences intense back or neck pain, numbness or tingling in the arm, buttocks or leg may benefit from chiropractic care.

Chiropractic is a drug-free, non-surgery method of professional health care. Why not consider less invasive methods before resorting to surgery. For more information or an appointment, please call the DELORENZO CHIROPRACTIC GROUP at 475-5042. We're located at 15 Central Street. Chiropractic care not only restores health, it builds health.

P.S. A patient who is not responding to treatment may be referred for more appropriate care.

Wes Whitney is retiring after serving the town 16 years

sighted bits of planning," done in the town.

"It has enabled this town to have what it has at a decent tax rate," he said.

A great deal of developable land remained in Andover when he first came here in 1969 compared to what is left today, Mr. Whitney said.

"It's substantially diminished," he said. "We've reached the point where we are now developing what I would call, 'marginal areas.'"

He also talked about why such large homes are being built on small lots in town.

"The price of real estate in Andover reached the point that a person developing couldn't afford to build a small house," he said. "The cost of real estate dictated the size of house you had to put on it."

An issue he sees in the future will be people who want to enlarge their homes because they can't afford to buy newer, larger homes if they want to stay in town. Many will be ZBA issues because they will involve violations of the zoning bylaw to expand.

"That's one of the ongoing problems that's going to face the board," he said.

The change in the zoning bylaw which allowed "in-law" apartments in single family residential districts was one of the interesting changes Mr. Whitney has seen on the board, he said. The law was amended on the request of the board.

"The board had no tools to deal with the problem," before the change, Mr. Whitney said.

One of the emotional issues the board has had to deal with is the long-time residents who want to build an apartment for their children who want to move back to Andover but can't afford to.

You just can't allow that in a single residence district without destroying the single residence zoning, according to Mr. Whitney.

"If you decided every issue on the emotional basis of it, you might as well throw the bylaw out the windows. It can't be done," he said.

Another emotional issue has been the elderly or older residents who want to subdivide their property for retirement income but find they are a few feet short of the required subdivision size or frontage.

'If you decided every issue on the emotional basis of it, you might as well throw the bylaw out the windows. It can't be done.'

"You have to deny them," Mr. Whitney said. "Because they have no basis in the bylaw."

Personal

Mr. Whitney was born and raised in Worcester. He has a law degree from Cornell University and an undergraduate degree from Ohio State. He worked in a private law practice before going to work as legal counsel for General Electric.

"I just completed my 30th year with GE," he said.

Mr. Whitney will retire from GE at the end of June just before he turns 65.

He and his wife, Lois Ann, moved to Andover in 1969 from Manlius, N.Y., outside Syracuse, when he transferred to GE's Fitchburg plant.

He joined the ZBA as an associate member in September of 1975, became a regular member in 1979 and became chairman in 1980 when the board went from three regular members to five because of an increased work load. He has been reappointed as chairman three times since then.

His motivation to serve the town has been somewhat a sense of duty, according to Mr. Whitney.

"If you have some expertise that could be of use, I think you sort of have an obligation to offer," he said.

"It has been a lot of work, but you know, if you're going to do a job, you might as well do it right and if you're going to do this job you've got to put some time into it."

Mr. Whitney has spent a lot of time in the law library researching legal precedent and often wrote his decisions while flying during frequent trips for his company, according to Ms. Schwing.

"He'll come to my house Sundays, holidays, Saturday, 8 o'clock at night and say, 'Pat, I need this. Pat, can you do that?'" Ms. Schwing said. "He's the type of person, you want to do it for him. He would do it for you."

Ms. Schwing said she never minded giving the extra effort when she understood the importance of what she was doing.

"He always took the time to explain it," she said.

Mr. Whitney said Ms. Schwing was always a great help and that she was the one who kept the board on track.

"Besides all that, she's just a very lovely lady," he said.

Mr. Whitney also said the ZBA has had a "very devoted group" of members over the years who worked well together.

"A group who could have differences of opinions among them, strong differences of opinion, but who wouldn't let that effect relationships," he said. "There has just never been any infighting on this board for the 16 years I've served on it."

Possibly Mr. Whitney's greatest asset for the ZBA job has been his memory, according to Ms. Schwing, who credits herself with excellent recall abilities.

"Wes is the only person who I've ever met who tops me," she said.

He never forgot a hearing or a deadline and always got things done on time and pushed others on the board to follow suit.

"He's been the backbone of this board. He's going to be such a hard act to follow," Ms. Schwing said. "I'm going to miss him terribly. Don't tell him that though."

Mr. Whitney has volunteered to help Laura Hill, town planner, to rewrite the zoning bylaw during the next year. He also plans on spending a lot of time in Colorado where both his son and daughter live.

Document Conservation Center offers free service in June

The Northeast Document Conservation Center (NEDCC) will offer a free service to collectors of valuable art on paper, books, documents, photographs and maps on Friday, June 21. The professional conservators invite the public to bring paper-based objects from their collections to NEDCC for a free examination and estimate of treatment costs.

The nationally known center is located at the intersection of routes 495 and 93 at 100 Brickstone Square.

The Northeast Document Conservation Center is a non-profit, regional center that provides conservation and preservation services for paper-based artifacts including books, manuscripts, photographs, maps, architectural drawings and works of art on paper. NEDCC is known for the variety of materials it can treat and the outstanding credentials of its conservation staff.

For an appointment and directions, call Alex Chanler at NEDCC. Walk-ins will be accommodated as possible. NEDCC's minimum fee for conservation treatment for an object or group of objects is $200. No appraisals of value will be given.

Gregg Rybicki and Jimmy Newell, both South Elementary School fourth-graders, ran in the 4x200-meter relay race during the annual fourth- and fifth-grade track meet. Newell won with a time of 2:28. Nearly 680 students from Andover's four elementary schools participated. The idea of the track meet is "sportsmanship and the joy of competing," according to Richard Bourdelais, program advisor for physical education. The meet was held May 23 at Lovely Field.

Softball season ends with a win over Wilmington, 4-3

By Rick Harrison

The 1991 softball season ended on a winning note for Andover High, as the Lady Warriors posted a 4-3 extra-inning triumph over Wilmington.

The victory came 48 hours after powerhouse Dracut had pounded AHS, 19-2, the final-week split leaving the locals with an overall record of 5-13.

Five of the losses were by one or two-run margins, while four of the victories came by three or fewer runs, which indicates Coach Ken Pellerin's young team was playing competitive ball throughout the season.

The Lady Warriors graduate only five seniors, all of whom will be missed, but they also have a strong nucleus returning.

Leaving are Alison Ingves, Darlene Prochniak, pitcher Kerri Murphy (4-9), Nancy Hoffman and Lisa Hayes.

Expected back next year are top hitter Lindsay Sweeney, Marcia Gemmell, catcher Julie DiLiegro, Tara Griffin, Meghan Mueller, Melissa McNamara, Amy Cassidy, Suzanne Doucette and Kirsten Nowell.

Plus the top players from a highly-successful freshman team.

Andover-Dracut

Dracut raced to 12-1 lead after three innings and basically overmatched Andover, as winning pitcher Kris Gorman limited the locals to six well-scattered hits.

Losing hurler Lindsay Sweeney (1-3), a sophomore lefthander, kept her batting average over .500 with two hits while junior Meghan Mueller, Kerri Murphy, Alison Ingves and Nancy Hoffman added the other safeties.

Golf team members partake in state finals

By Rick Harrison

The Andover High golf team will get back into the swing of things over the next two weeks, as senior Sean Darwin and junior Jim Ofria participate in the MIAA State Individual Championship Finals and the entire squad competes in the MIAA State Division 1 Team Finals.

The Individuals are scheduled for next Monday, June 3 at Mt. Pleasant Golf Club in Boylston.

The Division 1 Team tourney is slated for Wednesday, June 12 at Easton Country Club in the South Shore community of Easton.

The Golden Warriors, joining more than 50 per cent of the schools in Massachusetts, play their regular season and tournament qualifying rounds in the fall.

Although Andover players have been practicing for the states for several weeks, they last competed as a unit on November 1.

AHS finished the Merrimack Valley Conference season in second place, winning six of its last seven matches to finish 10-4-2 overall.

Andover trailed only perennial league and state champion Haverhill (12-2-0), whom the Warriors shocked 8-4 in a late-season upset.

AHS then qualified for the All-States at Putterham Meadows in Brookline, while No. 1 Darwin and No. 2 Ofria both carded 80 to make the cut in the Individual Qualifying at the Beverly Lawn and Tennis Club.

Next Monday's Individual Finals will be

36 holes medal play, with a cut made after the first 18 and approximately half the field continuing to the final round in the afternoon.

The Team Finals format has six players from each squad competing, with the four low scores figuring in the final team total.

Andover's six players will be chosen from among Darwin (8-4-1 season record), Ofria (5-7-2), Greg LeBreck (8-3-2), Matt Harris (8-5-2), Dan Hinchey (10-0-2), Rich Yost (9-0-0) and Justin Hesenius (6-6-0).

The one possible conflict involves sophomore Hesenius, a top pitcher on the powerful AHS baseball team which could still be involved in State Tournament play itself on June 12.

Darwin, called by longtime Coach Bob Lawson "the best golfer at Andover High in many years," also tied for fifth in the Merrimack Valley Conference Individual Championships last fall (his 76 five strokes behind champ Marc Spencer of Haverhill).

A standout hockey player as well, Darwin was voted to the All-Conference team in golf while Ofria and Matt Harris were named league Large School Division All-Stars.

Andover High's best showing in the team finals was two years ago (1989) when it placed third in Division 2 after winning the qualifying competition at Far Corners in West Boyford.

The top individual effort also came that

Athletes named to All-Star and All-Conference status

By Rick Harrison

Seniors Dave Blank and Chris Chiang have been named the top players in the Merrimack Valley Conference in their respective sports, while several other Andover High spring athletes have earned All-Conference and All-Star honors for their efforts this season.

Baseball

Blank, the Golden Warrior baseball team's flamethrowing lefty pitcher headed for South Florida in the fall, shares the 1991 MVC Most Valuable Player Award with junior shortstop Larry Rodgers of Tewksbury.

Blank owns a 6-1 mound record this year, a 12.3 mark over the past two seasons, and he is also hitting close to .400 with a team-high three home runs including a recent grand slammer against Chelmsford.

Blank is one of three All-Conference selections from the Large School Division champion Andover club, joined by senior catcher Brett Hammond and junior centerfielder/third baseman Jim Landry.

Hammond is batting close to .400 with a number of extra-base hits, while leadoff instigator/catalyst Landry has hovered near the .500 mark all season and is team high in at-bats, hits, runs scored and multiple-hit games.

Joining those three as MVC Division 1 (Large School) All-Stars are junior lefty pitcher Jim Hanning (5-0 record), sophomore righty pitcher/infielder Justin Hesenius (6-0 and senior first baseman/DH Joe Iarrobino (.350 average).

Those six honorees were scheduled to participate in last night's first annual MVC vs. Middlesex League All-Star Game at Alumni Field in Lowell.

In addition Dave Bettencourt has been named MVC Division 1 "Coach-of-the-Year."

Tennis

Undefeated Chris Chiang (15-0) has been designated MVC "Player-of-the-Year" in boys' tennis, an award Andover has owned in recent years (Jeff Hechemy, etc.).

The MVC All-Conference team is dominated by the league champion Warriors (15-1 record), who grabbed two of the three available singles' berths and both doubles' spots.

With Chiang earning top honors, the first singles position went to Chelmsford sophomore Eric Kaplan whose only two losses in the league were to Chiang.

AHS junior Paul Bernardin and senior Tim Sullivan captured second and third singles respectively, both undefeated with Bernardin at 11-0 and Sullivan a team-high 16-0.

Bernardin played three matches at No. 1 and eight at No. 2, while Sullivan played six at No. 2 and 10 at No. 3.

The first doubles team is junior Doug Cullen and senior Manish Shah, who finished 9-2 overall including 6-2 at No. 1, while second doubles went to junior Adam Ferry and sophomore Erik Dahlstrand after they Murphy and Hoffman drove in AHS runs in the second and fifth, with sophomore Marcia Gemmell and Murphy scoring.

Laurie Shaw belted a grand slam to highlight Dracut's five-run first inning.

Pitcher Gorman helped herself with 3-for-3, three RBI and five runs scored.

Catcher Mo McSwigin, Samantha Burns and Kris Martin added two hits apiece for the Middies. Andover, 4-3

Ironically the Lady Warriors had lost a tough 3-2 extra-inning decision to Wilmington (also 5-13) the first time around, Kerri Murphy tossing a no-hitter for nine innings but victimized by several costly throwing errors.

This time the tables were turned and Murphy played a pivotal role in the victory, lofting a sacrifice fly in the bottom of the eighth to rescue Lindsay Sweeney who had tripled.

Murphy went the distance again en route to her fourth victory, yielding only three hits.

AHS managed just five safeties itself, two by Lindsay Sweeney who also scored twice.

Alison Ingves and Murphy delivered one hit and two ribbies apiece, Nancy Hoffman had a safety, and leadoff batter Darlene Prochniak scored a run as did Marcia Gemmell.

Wilmington tallied once in the top of the first, then battled from behind twice to tie it 2-2 in the fifth and 3-3 in the seventh.

That set the stage for the Sweeney-Murphy connection to end the season triumphantly.

spring when Chip Stella finished fifth in the state.

"You want to keep the winning edge," said

Lawson in anticipation of the upcoming state competition. "but the primary concern is to go out and have fun. I try not to place too much emphasis on winning at all costs."

Top pizza sellers listed

The Andover High School Football Parents Organization announces the top five team members selling the most pizzas were: John Kirkland, first; Erik Greenstein, second; Sal De Naro, third; Alan Guibord, fourth; and Bryan Adams, fifth.

Sports banquet at Pike School recognizes students

The annual sports banquet at the Pike School Tuesday, May 28, recognized every student who played on a team during the year. Varsity players received letters; junior varsity players received certificates. Several players received special awards.

The girls' and boys' athletic trophies, recognizing eighth- and ninth-graders for outstanding sportsmanship, were awarded to eighth-graders Sarah Moss of Andover and Sam Velishka of North

Andover.

Eighth-graders Raegan McDonald of Merrimack and Doug Worthen of North Andover received the Kerri Kattar awards for athletic ability and enthusiasm.

Heather Kellett of Salem, N.H., and Peter McCahill of North Andover, received the Bullard Award, given to sixth-graders who love sports and have an unfailing regard for opponents as well as teammates.

AHS baseball heads into tourney play

By Rick Harrison

The Andover High varsity baseball team will try to make Dual County League fourth-place finisher Newton South its first Eastern Mass. Division 1 North Sectional Tournament victim Saturday, when the Lions battle the top-seeded Golden Warriors at Andover High.

Game time is 3 p.m. and a large crowd is expected.

The tourney opener follows one of the most successful seasons in Merrimack Valley Conference baseball history by any team, Andover beating Lawrence High (6-1) and Billerica (9-8) last week to finish a near-perfect 14-1 league campaign.

The Golden Warriors, ranked No. 1 in Eastern Mass. Division 1 throughout most of the season, also earned a spot in the Lawrence Invitational Tournament championship final following a convincing 7-1 semifinal victory over North Andover.

The title game between Andover and Lawrence (3-2 over Methuen) was rained out Monday night after three innings, with AHS ahead 4-3 and Lawrence threatening.

The two teams, delayed by the Lawrence graduation and last night's MVC All-Star Game, will try to replay it this afternoon.

If the Warriors make Newton South their 20th victim of the season, they will advance to Monday's quarterfinal round and host the survivor of Saturday's Beverly (14-6) at Medford (14-6) clash.

The Sectional semifinals are scheduled later next week and the championship game will be next Saturday, June 8.

AHS, which has captured the MVC Large School crown two years in a row and three of the last four, hopes to progress two steps further than last June when it won the EMass. North title and reached the state semifinal before being eliminated.

Andover, 6-1

Sophomore Justin Hesenius was again overpowering, exhibiting pinpoint control in a route-going four-hitter with no walks and 10 strikeouts against Lawrence.

Despite his excellence Hesenius was losing the duel with the Lancers' Javier Fonseca entering the bottom of the fifth, Lawrence having pushed across the game's first run in the top of the stanza.

The run appeared to give the Golden Warriors their wakeup call, as they scored four times with Chethan Harish's two-run double the big blow.

The Tufts University-bound senior outfielder then added a two-run single in the sixth to wrap up the finest game of his varsity career.

Junior third baseman Matt Daniels singled home Harish in the fifth, and he later scored on junior Jim Landry's second safety of the game.

Landry and Harish led the eight-hit attack with two each, while Brett Hammond added a basehit and scored twice. Bryan Smith and junior shortstop Bobby Sheehan contributed hits and scored one run each.

Andover, 9-8

This game was proof positive the Golden Warriors can do no wrong this year.

Billerica, loser of six one-run games in a 12-8 season, had southpaw ace Mike Glavine on the mound while AHS used a variety of pitchers in an attempt to keep all rested for the Lawrence Invitational and Eastern Mass. Division 1 Tournaments.

Glavine (4-3) surrendered eight hits in six innings, and the Warriors roughed him up for eight runs before notching the game-winning tally in the seventh against reliever Bob Beals.

Justin Hesenius, who followed Chris Lembo to the mound and was later relieved himself by Jim Hanning, was credited with his seventh victory as the most effective of Andover's four hurlers.

Mills, Littrean help girls' Track teams make noble showings

By Rick Harrison

Leanna Mills and Ayanna Littrean won Eastern Mass. Class B individual championships in the javelin and discus respectively, while the girls 4x100 sprint relay team defended its title, highlighting the Andover High effort at the annual MIAA State Class Track and Field Championships last weekend at Reading High.

Both AHS teams made respectable showings, the girls earning a plaque by tying for second place and the boys finishing fourth overall.

Athletes among the top four in their events qualified for the State All-Class Meet this Saturday at Springfield Central High.

Joining Mills, Littrean and the girl relayers in Springfield will be sprinter Jill Ippolito, hurdlers Holly Clark and Jason McCue, shot putter Ryan Beal, discus thrower Will Lowry and the boys' 4x100 sprint relay crew.

Andover's Class B performance followed a tough MVC season-ending dual meet sweep of Billerica, the boys squeezing by 75-65 and the girls in an easier 76-55 triumph.

As reported last week, the girls won their third straight league championship and finished undefeated once again at 6-0 MVC and 7-0 overall.

The boys placed second to Central Catholic in the Large School Division, 6-1 MVC and 6-2 overall.

Following this week's All-State Meet, the 1991 season will conclude with the New England Championships for all qualifiers next Saturday (June 8) at East Hartford, Conn. High.

Girls Class B

The anticipated duel for Class B honors between 1989 champ Andover and undefeated Merrimack Valley Conference Small School titlist Tewksbury never materialized at steamy, showery Reading.

The Lady Warriors were no match for the Redgals on this day, Tewksbury winning four events and piling up 74 points to far outdistance the 29-school field.

Andover and Norwood tied for second with 48 points apiece, and rounding out the top five were Dennis-Yarmouth (34) and Randolph (33).

It was the second straight second place finish for the AHS girls, who were three points behind Methuen (now Class A) last spring.

Andover Coach Dick Collins was not surprised by the outcome.

"What people don't understand is that in track every meet is a different test of your team," explained Collins. "In a dual meet you're probably talking about 15 or 20 kids who are going to score. The State Relays are a test of about 30 kids."

"But when you get down to the major meets like this, now you're talking about maybe seven or eight outstanding people. It's a very different test of the team, and this is where Tewksbury excels."

"They don't have the numbers or the depth we have, but depth doesn't mean a damn thing here."

Captain Leanna Mills won the Class B javelin title by a wafer-thin margin, two inches, as her top toss of 118'3" edged Sherri Thorp of Witman-Hanson who threw 118'1."

Mills, third in the State All-Class Meet last spring, will have her hands full again this Saturday as she competes against league rival and three-time reigning Class A champ Kathleen Gillis of Chelmsford. Gillis uncorked a 147'1" heave last weekend at Boston College.

Captain Ayanna Littrean had more breathing room in the Class B discus, her winning throw of 102'4" more than a foot longer than the 101'2" toss by runner-up Gen Lloyd of Beverly High.

The girls' sprint relay foursome of junior Jill Ippolito, junior Nicole Angelos, senior Captain Maureen Maginnis and junior Layne Whitley, defending New England champs, clocked 51.2 to nose out Boston Tech (51.3) by a half-stride.

Ippolito added a second place finish in the 100 meters, her 12.8 a split-second behind Class B champ Suzanne Gioiso of Oliver Ames who crossed in 12.7.

Junior Holly Clark ran 48.1 in the 300-meter intermediate hurdles, finishing a strong third behind the 45.3 of winner Katie Kalidis of Framingham North and the 47.4 of second place Debbie Takach of Tewksbury.

Nicole Angelos earned fifth place in the 200 meter dash (27.0), a race that featured a meet record 24.9 effort by Norwood's Sarah Meeks.

Rounding out the Lady Warrior scorers was Layne Whitley with a pair of sixth place finishes in the long jump (15'11") and 400 meters (62.9).

Andover, 76-55

In the 76-55 dual meet victory over Billerica, Andover placed first in 10 of 15 events (no mile relay), swept the long jump and finished 1-2 in the 100-meter high hurdles and 400 meters.

Ayanna Littrean, Jill Ippolito and Holly Clark were double winners.

Littrean captured the discus (94'4") and shot put (33'6"), Ippolito the long jump (16'8") and 100 meters (12.5), and Clark swept the hurdles with a 16.0 clocking in the 100 highs and a 47.6 in the 300 intermediates.

Other individual winners were Leanna Mills in the javelin (112'8"), senior Captain Gillian Kiley in the high jump (4'10") and Layne Whitley.

Frosh Warriors end season undefeated

By Rick Harrison

The amazing Andover High freshman baseball team, masters of the close victory, completed an undefeated season last week with three more wins over Lawrence (17-0), Central Catholic (6-3) and North Andover (4-3).

The North Andover game marked the sixth one-run victory for the talented frosh, who also captured three other contests by two or three-run margins en route to a perfect 15-0 record.

Coach Ken Maglio's three-time reigning Merrimack Valley Conference champions are now 45-2 over the last three years after consecutive 15-1, 15-1 and 15-0 campaigns.

Andover, 17-0

The locals blasted Lawrence for the second time this spring, erupting for 11 runs in the second inning at Mark Devlin Field.

The game was shortened to five innings by the 15-run "slaughter rule."

Righthander Tim Caverly (4-0 record) went the distance on the mound, firing a one-hit shutout while fanning seven and walking three.

Paul Allard led the offensive barrage with a 4-for-4 afternoon at the plate, including two doubles, while Matt Wolcott went 4-for-5 with four singles.

Jeff Lembo smacked three hits, Bobby Daley and Chris Sintros laced a double and single each, and Toby Guzowski drilled two singles.

Andover, 6-3

The freshmen closed in on the perfect season by edging Central Catholic at Mullaney Park in Lawrence.

It was the second time Andover escaped against the young Raiders, having won the first meeting 9-8 in Andover.

Righthander Matt Wolcott improved his pitching record to 6-0 with a route-going five-hitter, striking out 13 and walking five.

The winners built a 5-0 lead with three runs in the second inning and two in the third. Central trimmed its deficit to 5-3 in the fourth, but Andover added an insurance run in the top of the sixth.

Jeff Brammer paced the offense with two hits and two RBI, Bobby Daley contributed two hits and one ribbie, Toby Guzowski doubled and singled, Todd Murray had two RBI and Matt Wolcott drove home one run.

Andover was forced to play the game without Jeff Lembo, its starting shortstop and No. 2 hitter, after he jammed a finger in a door prior to the game and had to go to the hospital for a precautionary examination.

Andover, 4-3

North Andover, routed 9-1 by Andover in the season opener, made the locals work hard to secure the perfect season.

The MVC champs bolted to a quick 3-0 lead in the bottom of the first at West Middle School, and added a run in the third.

But NA battled back with two runs in the fourth and one in the fifth, closing to 4-3, and the visitors then mounted a serious threat in the seventh before Todd Murray relieved starter Toby Guzowski and slammed the door.

In the Andover first Matt Wolcott singled, Jeff Lembo returned to the lineup and drew a walk, and Guzowski helped himself with a long two-run double. Toby moved to third on a balk and scored when Bobby Daley dropped a perfectly-executed suicide squeeze bunt.

In the third Guzowski belted a two-out double, stole third, and scored the eventual winning run on a wild pickoff throw to first. Daley had walked and the Scarlet Knights' pitcher was trying to nail him off base.

North Andover chipped away in the fourth and fifth, then put runners at second and third with no outs in the seventh.

Enter Todd Murray.

The first batter he faced tapped to the mound. Murray faked a throw to first and caught the man off third in a rundown.

The next hitter popped to Matt Wolcott at third base, who made the catch and fired to second baseman Chris Sintros to double up the runner and end the game.

Warriors baseball heads into tourney play

The Indians jumped ahead 2-0 in the bottom of the second when Ryan Thistle singled, Andy Kelley singled and Tom Gualtieri belted a two-run double.

The Warriors responded immediately with five runs in the third. Matt Orlando walked, Jim Landry singled him to third, and Dave Blank lofted a sacrifice fly. Joe Iarrobino singled, and when Bryan Smith's bouncer to the mound resulted in a wild throw to home another run crossed. Brett Hammond then singled home Iarrobino with the go-ahead tally, and Bobby Sheehan capped the uprising with a two-run double.

The Indians closed to 5-3 in the bottom half when Mike Hayes singled and catcher Paul Bolz tripled. Matt Orlando walked and later scored on a passed ball in the fourth, but Billerica parlayed a pair of rare Andover errors and Hayes' run-scoring single into a 6-6 tie moments later.

The Warriors regained the lead in the sixth on a Justin Hesenius single, Jim Landry RBI double and Iarrobino's run-producing infield out.

It jumped to 9-6 in the seventh when Hammond dumped an opposite-field single into right, Sheehan reached on an error and Mike Daley slapped an RBI single to plate the eventual deciding run.

The Indians had a last-ditch rally in the bottom of the seventh as Gary Torpey walked, Ryan Thistle clouted an RBI double, and Kelley later lofted a sacrifice fly to make it 9-8.

That, however, was as far as it went as junior lefty Jim Hanning finally put Billerica to rest.

Landry, Hammond, Iarrobino, Daley and Sheehan smacked two hits apiece for the MVC champs, while Mike Hayes and Ryan Thistle did likewise for BMHS.

Andover, 7-1

Dave Blank boosted his ledger to 6-1 with a standout performance against a North Andover team which still had an outside shot at tournament qualification.

Blank, who appears to be getting stronger as the season winds down, worked six innings of one-hit ball.

Left-hander Guzowski (2-0) did a masterful job for six innings, yielding just four hits, whiffing nine and walking six.

Andover managed only four base-hits as well, Guzowski's two doubles and a pair of singles by Wolcott.

Paul Allard turned in another spectacular clutch effort behind the plate, picking two runners off second base to end NA threats in the fourth (second and third) and fifth (bases loaded).

Boys' basketball school starts up in July

The second annual Andover Boys' Basketball School, directed by Andover High varsity Coach Dave Fazio, will run two big weeks from July 15-19 and July 29-August 2 at the AHS Dunn Gymnasium.

The school is for boys ages 7-17 years, and daily sessions will run from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Interested youngsters are urged to apply early as enrollment is limited.

"We will always bring in the very best coaches available," said Fazio. "All our staffers are interested in helping each camper improve his game."

In addition to Coach Fazio, the school will feature Merrimack College Head Coach Bert Hammel, University of Lowell Head Coach Stan Van Gundy, and Central Catholic varsity Coach Dick Licare.

Other outstanding high school and college coaches will also attend for instruction and lectures.

The program highlights include grouping by age and ability, guest speakers, individual video taping for instructional purposes, specialized instruction for guards and forwards, drill stations, individual evaluation, games, one-on-one contest, foul shooting contest and a free T-shirt for each camper.

"Every camper will be given instruction with the emphasis on hard work and sound fundamentals," said Fazio. "We believe these are the key ingredients for any basketball player to improve his game. Our objective is to strive to make each

AHS volleyball rallies to beat Milford in quest for title

By Rick Harrison

Responding to pressure like a championship team, the Andover High boys' volleyball squad rallied twice to overcome Milford 2-1 in their showdown battle for the Eastern Mass. League Northern Division title.

The match, played before a large crowd in Andover's Dunn Gymnasium, was a preview of state tournament pressure for the Golden Warriors who had to battle back from a first-game loss (5-15) and a 13-7 deficit in the third and deciding contest.

But Coach George Sullivan's squad was equal to the challenge, winning the middle game 15-9 and the clincher 15-13 to complete the regular season 15-1 with 15 consecutive victories after a 2-0 loss to Milford in the opener.

Milford finished at 14-2 overall, the other loss to Lowell High which settled for third at 13-3. In the league Andover was 13-1 and Milford 12-2. In repeating as Northern Division champ, and boosting its three-year varsity record to 40-14, AHS has installed itself as a favorite to capture the state title in the tournament which opens this week.

Andover tuned up for the Milford showdown by blitzing both Algonquin Regional of Northboro and Holliston High 2-0 last week.

Twelve of AHS' 15 victories were 2-0 shutouts.

Mastering Milford

Milford jumped all over the Warriors 15-5 in the opening game, picking up where it left off in the 2-0 season-opening victory.

But a few cogent words from Coach Sullivan between games aroused the locals, who responded with pride and performance in the match-squaring 15-9 triumph in game two.

In the classic third contest the visitors jumped ahead early, and were within two points of winning the division title, before junior Chris Zappala led the charge that turned things around.

Zappala entered with Milford holding a 13-7 lead, and immediately scored seven consecutive points to give Andover the lead for good.

Senior Co-Captain Jeff Foley was immense, as usual, with 35 attacks and 17 kills.

Senior Co-Captain John Bishop contributed 20 attacks and 10 kills, while the backcourt defense was led by seniors Spencer Pickard and Steve Sintros.

In the 2-0 sweep of Algonquin, AHS rolled 15-1 in the first game and 15-7 in the second.

Jeff Foley had the jump serve working overtime in the opening contest, scoring 13 consecutive points to key the rout.

Senior Dennis Aikman was strong on the front line, while the defense was led by hustling efforts from John Bishop and Chris Zappala.

Holliston fell as easily as Algonquin, 15-3 and 15-5, as Jeff Foley, senior Adam Ruma and Spencer Pickard combined for 26 kills.

Steve Sintros and John Bishop were defensive stalwarts.

The Andover JV's also gave indication the program will be on top for some time, winning its final three matches over Algonquin, Holliston and Milford to finish 14-2 overall.

ley in the 400 meters (62.8).

The 10th victory went to the 4x100 meter relay foursome of Maureen Maginnis, Nicole Angelos, sophomore Kara O'Handley and Ippolito (51.1).

Whitley and senior Lisa Allen completed the long jump sweep, while other runners-up were junior Kasie Kearins (100 hurdles), senior Krista Lavoie (triple jump), junior Ellen Sullivan (mile) and freshman Sarah Witman (400).

Lavoie also placed third in the high jump, Allen third in the long jump, Mills third in the shot and Maginnis third in the triple jump.

Additional thirds went to sophomore Kerry Hagerty (javelin), junior miler Jen Ashlock, junior hurdler Grace Perry (300 intermediates), Tricia McNeice (800) and sophomore 2-miler Amanda Holmes.

Boys Class B

The AHS boys did not have an individual winner or second place finisher in the Class B Meet, but did amass 27 points to finish fourth in the 29-team race behind runaway winner Reading (92 points), North Andover (56) and Whitman-Hanson (32).

Over the years the Andover boys have won 11 Class titles, six State All-Class championships and two New England crowns. Last year the Warriors finished third in this meet.

Captain Ryan Beal cracked the 50-foot barrier with a 50'10" shot put toss, good for third place behind the 54'9" heave of champion Marc Levine of Stoughton.

Senior Will Lowry was third in the discus with a 140'11" toss, and junior Jason McCue third in the 110-meter high hurdles (15.2).

Senior Mark Dodge captured fifth in the shot put (48'7"), and a trio of sixth-place finishes went to junior Todd Allard in the javelin (155'0"), junior Jamie Damon in the 100 meter dash (11.4) and senior Captain Matt Perry in the 800 meters (2:02.0).

The 4x100 sprint relay team of Jason McCue, Jamie Damon, Mark Dodge and Jon Usher was fourth in 44.9.

The AHS boys were weakened considerably by the absence of two outstanding trackmen, pole vaulter/sprinter Andy Carleton (broken ankle) and hurdler/jumper Steve Shepard (family commitment).

Their presence would undoubtedly have jumped the Warriors to third place and possibly to second.

Andover, 75-65

In its 75-65 dual meet conquest of Billerica, the Andover boys placed first in just seven of 16 events.

But depth was the difference as the Golden Warriors swept the shot put, discus and 400 meters, placed 1-2 in the 100 meters, and nailed down 11 seconds and 10 thirds altogether.

Will Lowry was AHS' lone multiple winner, capturing the discus (137'5") and javelin (164'9"), while other individual victors were shot putter Mark Dodge (47'11"), sophomore hurdler Steve Shepard in the 110 highs (15.9), Jamie Damon in the 100 meters (11.1) and senior George Loukatos in the 400 meters (54.3).

The 4x100 sprint relay team of senior Greg Dyer, Damon, Dodge and senior Jon Usher won in 45.5 seconds.

Completing the sweep of the shot were Ryan Beal and junior Erik Greenstein, the fifth time this spring they have cleaned house.

Juniors Bob Dalton and Mark Sobieck were 2-3 in the discus, while senior Alex Sumberg and junior Mike Giaino were 2-3 in the 400.

Shepard added a pair of second places in the long and triple jumps, and other runners-up were senior pole vaulter Tony Crooks, sophomore miler Brian Twomey, Matt Perry (800 meters), Mark Dodge (200) and Jon Usher (100).

Completing the list of pointscorers with additional third places were Todd Allard (javelin), John Hess (long jump), junior Chris Pothier (triple jump), senior miler Tim Parker, sophomore hurdler John Cirella, sophomore Colin Arsenault (800) and junior two-miler Jeremy Roux.

Billerica had a spectacular triple win from recently-crowned Class A triple jump champion Tom Galligani who captured the long jump (20'7"), triple jump (42'6") and 300-meter intermediate hurdles (42.7).

MVC Meet

The annual Merrimack Valley Conference Meet was held last Friday at Andover's Eugene V. Lovely oval.

The meet, coming as it does one day before the Class Championships, is for those athletes who did not qualify to compete in the bigger MIAA event.

There are no team scores kept.

The Andover boys earned four first place finishes and the girls three.

On the boys' side Alan Guibord won the triple jump (37'9"), Keith Bilger the 100 meters (12.1), Jamie Himer the 300-meter intermediate hurdles (43.1) and John Eckles the 200 meters (24.6).

AHS seconds went to Bob Smith in the discus (114'0"), Ted Ratyna (javelin), triple jumper Kevin Foltz (37'1"), high jumper Andrew Leinson (5'6"), sprinter Ryan Kelly (100 meters) and Ryan Morgan (800 meters).

Steve Bernard was third in the pole vault, Dan Waitkevitch third in the javelin, and Eric Fox third in the 110-meter high hurdles.

Steve Kulcsar was fourth in the 300-meter intermediate hurdles and James Roux fourth in the mile.

The lone fifth place went to John Weisman in the 200 meters, while sixths were annexed by Scott Miner (shot put), Kris Kelmer (discus) and Mike Tung (800).

On the girls' side Andover firsts went to Jamie Lynch in the discus (82'3"), Karen Murphy in the high jump (4'8") and Sarah Wallace in the 800 meters (2:35.8).

Kate Parker was runner-up in the triple jump (29'8"), Jen Romig second in the 100-meter hurdles and Chris Donovan second in the 200 meters.

Joanna Moynihan (discus) had the lone third place, while fourths went to Lisa Perdiga (long jump), Rebecca Barry (800) and Rebecca Morrison (2-mile).

Debbie Xifaras was fifth in the mile, and rounding out the scorers in sixth were Diane Dresser (long jump), Jackie Flowers (100 meters) and Karen Brocklesby (mile).

Athletes named to All-Star and All-Conference status

went 9-0 including 4-0 at No. 1.

Cullen was also 2-1 in singles, Shah 1-0 in singles, and Perry went 13-0 in all doubles matches including 2-0 with Shah and 1-0 with Cullen.

The Lady Warriors, who also won their league championship and finished undefeated at 16-0, have one player in singles and one doubles team on the All-Conference squad.

Freshman Alison Georgian, 10-1 at No. 1, is All-Conference first singles.

Her only loss, appropriately, was to girls' "Player-of-the-Year" Jolie Stadelman of Lawrence High.

The sophomore tandem of Beth Everett and Julie Doherty took the second doubles' slot, although playing together just five times (5-0) in a season that saw Coach Tony Russo serve up 16 different combinations.

Altogether Everett was 8-0 in doubles and 1-0 in singles, while Doherty was 6-0 in doubles and 3-0 in singles.

Junior Kim Heller rounded out the Andover selections as she was named to the third singles post on the All-Star squad.

Heller played all three singles' positions this spring, finishing 10-1 overall with the only loss to All-Conference second singles Elizabeth Marshall of Lowell.

Both Andover coaches, Russo and Mike Wartman, were passed over in favor of Haverhill High boys' Coach Christie Domoracki and Chelmsford High girls' Coach Maureen Gill.

Softball

Andover did not have anyone named to the 13-girl MVC All-Conference softball team.

However, selected as Division 1 All-Stars were senior infielder Darlene Prochniak, senior pitcher/outfielder Kerri Murphy and sophomore pitcher/outfielder Lindsay Sweeney.

Murphy won four games on the mound and highlighted her season by tossing a nine-inning no-hitter (which she lost 3-2) against Wilmington.

Prochniak was the team's pesky leadoff hitter who, although not batting for a high average, found many ways to get on base and score runs.

Sweeney could have earned All-Conference laurels had she played the entire season. However, in approximately half the year she managed to bat close to .500 and pick up one victory on the mound. She also hit .340 for the varsity as a freshman.

These three AHS girls were scheduled to participate in the annual MVC inter-division (Large vs. Small) All-Star Game earlier this week under the lights at Town Park in Wilmington.

Senior catcher Judy O'Connell of Wilmington was named Conference MVP in softball.

Blue and Gold Pony League teams selected

The Andover Blue and Gold Pony League baseball teams have been selected for the 1991 season, following a series of tryouts that attracted more than 60 new players.

Both teams open their 1991 league seasons Monday, June 17 with Gold hosting the Reading Astros at Andover High and Blue facing North Andover at Merrimack College (6 p.m. games).

Blue is coming off an 18-1 year, having gone undefeated to win the Suburban Pony League regular-season championship before being knocked out of the playoffs by Andover Gold 5-4 in the semifinal round.

Gold was 15-8 overall, finishing fourth during the regular season and then battling to the championship round of the playoffs before losing a pair of one-run decisions to Methuen (3-2 and 10-9) in the best-of-3 final series.

Both Blue and Gold have won the league title twice since joining the SPL five years ago, Blue sharing the crown with Lynnfield one summer.

Both also won several division titles before the league merged into one division last year. Blue has dominated the rivalry in recent years, winning eight of the last nine, while Gold won 24 of the first 29 games prior to the Blue surge and holds a 25-13 overall edge.

Team Rosters

Veteran players returning to the Blue this year are 15-year-old Toby Guzowski, Paul Allard, Matt Wolcott, Chris Sintros, Peter Murphy and Jeff Lembo along with 14-year-old Dana McCann, Rob Derba and Todd Harris.

New additions are 15-year-old Chris O'Connell, 14-year-old Justin Connors and Alex Marshall, and 13-year-old Brian Tisbert, Hugh Quatlebaum and Jason Caverly.

Gold 15-year-old veterans are Dan Hansberry, Matt Marvin, Brian Flanagan, Pat Walsh and Sam McLellan along with 14's Tom Tanin, Rick Mendez and Tom Boutureia.

Newcomers are 15's Tim Caverly and Jeff Brammer, 14's Dave Kelmer, P.J. Auffermann and Jeff Hesenius and 13's Dave Salafia and Brad Batchelder.

Blue vs. Gold

The two Andover teams will meet just once during the regular season, on Saturday morning, July 6 at Andover High (10 a.m.).

White Sox claim American majors title

Jim Sandison's White Sox team compiled a perfect 8-0 ledger, thus claiming the first half title of Andover's Little League American majors division. The White Sox, who edged out a talented Indians squad by one game, thereby clinch a postseason berth against the American League's second half champion.

In the National League, the Cubs and Giants shared first place honors, with each team finishing at 5-3. The two teams meet on Friday, June 7 to determine first half bragging rights.

White Sox 9 Cardinals 7

Four runs in the final frame enabled the White Sox to squeeze past the Redbirds. Mark O'Sullivan earned the pitching win and stroked two doubles to key the White Sox attack. Jeremy Schofield and Jonathan Fusco backboned the Sox defense. Cardinals Greg LaFlamme and Danny Gosselin rapped big hits. Ten-year-olds David Kodinsky and Gary Nicholson recorded their first major league hits.

Cubs 12 Yankees 6

Shaun Connors laced four hits, including two doubles, to lead the streaking Cubs past the Yanks. David Weiner accounted for a pair of Cub safeties, while Zack Traynor and Jamie Moskos also contributed key raps. Big Yankee blows were delivered by Nick Guild, Ned Yetten and Ryan Hanigan.

Giants 14 Twins 6

Eleven runs in the first three innings put the Giants out of reach early. Scott Petersen and Randy Romano split pitching chores for the winners. Adam Tripi, Chris Everett, Andrew Marshall, Josh Prudden and Alex Tommasino dealt the biggest Giant blows. The Twins got big hits from Brian Jordan, Jeff Culter, and Ryan Daniels.

BUSINESS PROFILES

Le Studio de Ballet

The community is welcome to attend the performance of the students from Le Studio de Ballet at 6:30 p.m. on Friday, June 14, at West Elementary School. Each class level will perform their own dance. Yevgenia A. Mironovich will be the accompanist. Also accompanying the dancers for their plies will be Elizabeth Clarke on the flute. Elizabeth is a flute student of Leonid I. Mironovich, Yevgenia's husband, and the daughter of the other pianist, Carole Clarke.

Those participating in the concert will be: Level Two, Claire Givens, Laura Corliss and Kyla Teplitz; Level One, Katya Yerozolimsky, Jenny Hsu, Kirsten Rapp, Susan Wagner, Setarreh Massihzadegan, Sarah Venuti, Siobhan Landry and Valerie Wencis; Primary Two, Lisa Tisbert, Lauren Kerivan, Joanna MacPherson, Georgiana Kuhlmann, Bethany Givens, Sarah Ferranti and Nunu Chen.

Display classes, open to family and friends, will be June 11, 12, 17, 20, 21 and 22 at Le Studio de Ballet.

Le Studio de Ballet offers both morning and evening summer sessions for adults and children. These classes will meet eight weeks during July and August.

For further information or to enroll in a class, please call Directress Margaret A. Earle at Le Studio de Ballet, 2 Dundee Park, Andover. Telephone: 470-1381.

Hot summer is coming — It's time to have the car checked

This is the time of year to repair and take preventive measures to keep the car or truck in top running condition. Keep the cooling system and air conditioning in top running shape. There is no need to be stuck on the highway with radiator problems. Leo J. Couture & Sons are experts at repair and maintenance of these problems, as well as gas tank, heater, leaking and worn hose, clogging, corrosion and minor mechanical repairs.

Radiators are Couture's specialty. They are capable of rebuilding and repairing your existing radiator, recoring it, or you may purchase either a second-hand model or replace it with a new radiator. They will help you to save money and offer their guarantee.

Leo J. Couture & Sons also provides 24-hour towing service. They will pay cash for junk cars, whose parts then become inventory for their junk yard. Junked cars will be picked up at your door.

Couture & Sons is located at 54 Medford Street, Lawrence, just behind the Essex Street Plaza Demoulas. They are open Monday through Friday from 7 a.m. to 4 p.m. and Saturdays from 7 a.m. to 1 p.m. Telephone (508) 685-9703.

Cops hopeful on contract

By Don Staruk

Patrolman Tom Siopes, president of the police patrolmen's union, following a meeting last Thursday, said this week that he agreed with Buzz Stapczynski, town manager, that the obstacles to a patrolmen's contract agreement can be overcome before the end of June.

"I think they can, too," Officer Siopes said Wednesday.

Patrolmen have been without a contract for nearly two years. They could face the loss of any retroactive pay they may have coming if the contract isn't settled by June 30, the end of the fiscal year.

Following a negotiating session last Thursday, in which the town manager sat down with the union representatives for the first time to discuss the contract, Mr. Stapczynski said he was "optimistic" that the contract could be settled before the June 30 deadline.

Officer Siopes said he hoped the town wouldn't try to use the deadline as a bargaining chip.

"If that happens, I think the union is willing to bear with the pressures. I don't think we're ready to just give up," Officer Siopes said.

But he was glad Mr. Stapczynski took the "lead role," in the negotiations.

"I have a good feeling about the meeting," he said. "A lot of communication occurred that hadn't occurred in the past."

Another meeting is scheduled for June 14.

"If that is as productive as the last one, I would anticipate a contract will be resolved" before the month's end, Officer Siopes said.

June 19 is last day of school

Wednesday, June 19, will be the last day of school for students in the Andover public schools. The School Committee approved that date at the Tuesday meeting as well as setting the following day, Thursday, June 20, as the last workday for teachers.

North Andover Auto Body

Understanding the needs of their customers is the goal of North Andover Auto Body. The shop's reputation has been built on quality workmanship and almost 30 years of customer satisfaction. That experience can be put to work for you finding the best and most economical way to repair your car. They are equipped to rebuild all types of cars, foreign or domestic, from modest economy models to Rolls-Royces.

One phone call to North Andover Auto Body after an accident will take care of all your needs. Owner David White and his staff of qualified auto body technicians have the knowledge and experience to take care of the situation from the initial towing to restoring the vehicle to perfect running condition. North Andover Auto Body is a state registered shop, number 227.

Once the car is in the shop, they will have their own state-licensed appraiser make a fair and accurate estimate of the damages. Then their crew of specialists will take over and make the repairs you deem necessary to put your car in working order.

They can handle anything from minor scrapes to major overhauls. They will align any frame or unitized body, including many previously thought to be beyond repair, with their state-of-the-art frame machine.

North Andover Auto Body is now offering detailing service, which includes a complete interior and exterior cleaning of your vehicle. Because the service is offered by a body shop, they can also do touch-up painting, moldings and pinstripping while the car is being serviced. What a great way to bring back the "newness" to your car.

North Andover Auto Body is located at 374 Osgood St., North Andover, (next to North Andover High.) Hours are Monday through Friday from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Saturdays from 8 a.m. to noon. Telephone: 683-6000.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE AND SECURED PARTY'S SALE OF PERSONAL PROPERTY

By virtue and in execution of the Power of Sale contained in a certain mortgage given by Ocean Properties North, Inc., a Massachusetts corporation ("Ocean"), to Connecticut General Life Insurance Company, a Connecticut corporation, said mortgage dated May 14, 1987, recorded with the Essex North Registry of Deeds in Book 2494, Page 169, of which mortgage the undersigned is the present holder, for breach of the conditions of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same will be sold at public auction on the terms and conditions hereinafter set forth at 2:00 o'clock, p. m. on the 25th day of June, 1991, upon the mortgaged premises at 123 Old River Road, Andover, Essex County, Massachusetts, all and singular the premises described in said mortgage, to wit:

"A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon in Andover, Essex County, Massachusetts shown as Parcel "A" on a "Plan of Land in Andover, Mass. prepared for Ocean Properties North, Inc." dated June 25, 1986 by Dana F. Perkins & Associates, Inc. recorded with the Essex North Registry of Deeds as Plan No 10610, bounded and described as follows:

SOUTHERLY: by Old River Road, fifty (50) feet.
WESTERLY: by Interstate Route 93, one thousand six hundred nineteen and 97/100 (1,619.97) feet.
NORTHERLY: by land of FPW Realty Trust, four hundred thirty-five and 46/100 (435.46) feet.
EASTERLY: by land of FPW Realty Trust, one thousand forty-one and 52/100 (1,041.52) feet.
SOUTHEASTERLY: by Parcel "B" on said plan, two hundred twenty and 30/100 (220.30) feet.

SOUTHERLY: by Parcel "B", three hundred (300) feet;
EASTERLY: by Parcel "B", three hundred sixty-five (365) feet.
Said parcel contains 13.58 acres more or less according to said plan.

For title, see deed from Ocean, Inc. to Ocean Properties North, Inc. dated May 16, 1986, recorded with Essex County North Registry of Deeds in Book 2193, Page 73.

Said mortgage also constitutes a security agreement covering the following types of property:

(i) All fixtures, fittings, furnishings, appliances, apparatus, equipment, and machinery, including, without limitation, all gas and electric fixtures, radiators, heaters, engines and machinery, boilers, ranges, ovens, elevators and motors, bathtubs, sinks, water closets, basins, pipes, faucets and other air-conditioning, plumbing, and heating fixtures, mirrors, mantles, refrigerating plants, refrigerators, iceboxes, dishwashers, carpeting, furniture, laundry equipment, cooking apparatus and appurtenances, and all building material, supplies and equipment delivered to the premises and intended to be installed therein; all other fixtures and personal property of whatever kind and nature in any building standing on the premises which is used or intended to be used in the operation or management of the premises; and all renewals or replacements thereof and articles in substitution thereof; and all proceeds and profits thereof and all of the estate, right, title and interest of Ocean in and to all property of any nature whatsoever, situated on the premises or intended to be used in connection with the operation or management thereof. All leases and use agreements of machinery, equipment, furniture, and other personal property in the categories hereinabove set forth, under which Ocean is the lessee of, or entitled to use, such items.

(ii) All rents, incomes, profits, security deposits, revenues, royalties, bonuses, rights, accounts receivable, contract rights, and general intangibles deriving from the premises or relating thereto and all benefits under any and all leases or tenancies of the premises or any part thereof.

(iii) All judgments, awards of damages and settlements hereafter made as a result of or in lieu of any taking of the premises or any part thereof or interest therein under the power of eminent domain, or for any damage (whether caused by such taking or otherwise) to the premises or the improvements thereon or any part thereof or interest therein, including any award for change of grade of streets and all insurance proceeds payable with respect to any casualty or damage to the premises.

(iv) All proceeds of the conversion, voluntarily or involuntarily of any of the foregoing into cash or liquidated claims.

The above described real and personal property will be sold together as a whole at said public auction in accordance with the undersigned's rights and remedies with respect to the real property, as provided by Massachusetts General Laws, Chapter 106, Section 9-501(4). As further security for the obligations secured by said mortgage, Ocean granted to the undersigned security interests in certain personal property (hereinbelow described) pursuant to four (4) security agreements (hereinbelow described), of which security interests the undersigned is the present holder. Because of Ocean's defaults under said security agreements, the undersigned shall, pursuant to the provisions of Massachusetts General Laws, Chapter 106, Section 9-504, cause to be sold at said public auction all the personal property covered by said security agreements, to wit:

1. The property covered by the security agreement from Ocean to the undersigned entitled "Assignment of Hotel Management Agreement and Hotel Reserve Account" dated May 14, 1987, being all of Ocean's right, title and interest in and to (i) the Management Agreement by and between Ocean and Marriott Corporation dated December 16, 1985, as amended, regarding the management of the premises, (ii) the escrow reserve account required to be established pursuant to Article VIII of said Management Agreement, (iii) the bank account in which said escrow reserve account is maintained, and (iv) any and all extensions and renewals of any of the foregoing.

2. The property covered by the security agreement from Ocean to the undersigned entitled "Conditional Assignment of Equipment Leases" dated May 14, 1987, being all of Ocean's right, title and interest in and to (i) two equipment leases from RCA Corporation as lessor to Ocean as lessee, one dated September 18, 1986 regarding a telephone system for the premises, and the other dated October 3, 1986 regarding a television system for the premises, and (ii) any and all other leases entered into by Ocean as lessee for the use of any equipment to be used in the operation or management of the premises.

3. The property covered by the security agreement from Ocean to the undersigned entitled "Conditional Assignment of Licenses and Permits" dated May 14, 1987, being all of Ocean's right, title, interest, power and authority in, under and by virtue of any license or permit given by or obtained from any governmental entity with respect to the premises or any portion thereof.

4. The property covered by the security agreement from Ocean to the undersigned entitled "Conditional Assignment of Liquor Licenses" dated May 14, 1987, being all of Ocean's right, title, interest, power and authority in, under and by virtue of any and all licenses given by or obtained from any governmental entity with respect to the premises or any portion thereof authorizing the sale of alcoholic beverages, including without limitation any innholder's license.

The personal property covered by said four (4) security agreements and the real and personal property covered by said mortgage will be sold together as a whole at said public auction.

The property covered by said mortgage will be sold subject to any and all restrictions, easements, covenants, conditions, unpaid real estate taxes, tax titles, municipal liens and assessments and existing encumbrances of record created prior to said mortgage, if any thereon.

The property covered by said mortgage also will be sold subject to all leases and tenancies having priority over said mortgage, to said Management Agreement, to tenancies or occupation by persons on the premises (including, without limitation, hotel guests and those claiming possessory rights under said Management Agreement) and to all laws and ordinances including, without limitation, all building, zoning and environmental laws and ordinances.

The personal property covered by said security agreements will be sold subject to all laws and ordinances including, without limitation, all laws and ordinances governing said licenses and permits, and to all rights and interests of others, whether or not of record or known to the undersigned, having priority over the rights and interests of the undersigned.

TERMS OF SALE: Five Hundred Thousand Dollars ($500,000) of the purchase price shall be paid as a deposit in cash, certified check or bank treasurer's check at the time and place of the sale by the purchaser and the balance of the purchase price shall be paid in cash, certified check or bank treasurer's check upon delivery of the deed twenty-five (25) days from the date of the sale. The deposit paid at the time of the sale shall be forfeited if the purchaser does not comply strictly with the terms of the sale. Other terms will be announced at the sale.

LEGAL NOTICES

MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE

By virtue and in execution of the Power of Sale contained in a certain mortgage, given by Paul D. Anderson and Lawrence W. Vaughn, Trustees of P & L Realty Trust under Declaration of Trust dated December 23, 1986, recorded with Essex North District Registry of Deeds in Book 2390, Page 288, of which mortgage the undersigned is the present holder and for the purpose of foreclosing the same will be sold at Public Auction at 2:00 o'clock P.M. on the 20th day of June, 1991, A.D. at North Andover, Massachusetts, all and singular the premises described in said mortgage, (said premises being presently numbered The Willows Condominium, Unit 202/204, 807 Turnpike Street, North Andover, Massachusetts), to wit:

A certain parcel of real property situated in North Andover, Essex County, Massachusetts and being Condominium Unit #202/204 in Building designated as 807 Turnpike of The Willows Condominium, a condominium located on 807 Turnpike Street, North Andover, Massachusetts as established pursuant to Massachusetts General Laws, Chapter 183-A by a Master Deed dated October 6, 1980, and recorded in the Essex North District Registry of Deeds at Volume 1460, Page 3. Said Unit is laid out as shown on the site plan and floor plans filed with Declaration of Condominium and Master Deed and recorded in the aforesaid Registry of Deeds at Book 1580, Page 194, and to which are attached the verified statements of a registered architect as required by Section 9 of the said Chapter 183-A and to which reference may be had for a more particular description; together with the 3.5714% undivided interest in the common areas and facilities and limited common areas and facilities described in the Master Deed attaching to the aforesaid Condominium Unit and subject to and together with the rights to use the same in common with others entitled thereto; and subject to and together with the rights in easement and encroachments and subject to such by-laws, rules and regulations, and said Chapter 183-A all as for time to time amended, and as set forth in the Unit Deed to the Mortgagors from Laurence J. Rossi, Trustee of Ash Street Investment Trust, w/d/t dated December 21, 1983, and recorded at said Registry of Deeds at Book 1760, Page 169, and Bruce S. Moody, individually, dated June 8, 1984 and recorded at said Registry of Deeds at Book 1820, Page 67.

For title see Unit deed dated December 23, 1986 recorded with the Essex North District Registry of Deeds in Book 2390 at Page 285. Which has the address The Willows Condominium of Unit # 202/204, 87 Turnpike Street, North Andover, Massachusetts ("Property Address").

The said premises will be sold subject to any unpaid taxes, tax lites, water bills, rights of tenants and parties in possession, State and Federal and municipal liens thereon, easements, rights, restrictions and encumbrances of record.

Recycle

DO YOU HAVE an item or items that you no longer need, but that would be useful to someone else, something you'd be willing to give away if someone would come get it? For instance: boxes, storm windows, a child's bicycle, cardboard boxes, an old set of dishes.

For only $4.75 for the first 20 words and 10 cents each additional word, you can list your recyclable item in the Townsman's newest classified section: RECYCLE.

It's a way to clean up your place while acknowledging the world is running out of landfill space.

AHS students say free-speech rights violated

they want to represent them on student government," said Ms. McNemar.

Junior Jeff Stein defended the administration's decision. He said the three students went beyond their rights of freedom of speech and that the administration acted responsibly in taking them off the ballot.

"The question isn't just about free speech, it's about how far does that right extend," he said.

"Does it include racial slurs or the right to preach violence? These serve no essential purpose and hold no social value. There are rules in society and school to protect us, not censor us," Mr. Stein said.

The debate was moderated by Laura Wilson, president of the school's Junior State chapter. Exchanges, pro and con, were made among the two speakers and audience members. Matt Radack, one of the students who was removed from the ballot, told the audience he believed all the students at AHS were done an injustice by the administration's actions.

"Freedom of speech shouldn't be limited in any way," he said.

Jeremy Roux said he believes student government is a privilege, one that shouldn't be abused the way the three students did in early May.

"I think everyone involved is taking a very wide brush and coloring those two words, "offensive" and "obscene," the same color. You can't please everybody all the time and no matter what you say you're likely to offend someone. The question I feel here is whether or not all three candidates were obscene," said Doug Gordon, a student at the high school.

"It's up to us to look at all instances and judge them for what they are," he said.

Jean Palmer, a parent, spoke for freedom of speech. She said a school should be a place where students learn "about all points of view."

Michael Frishman, another parent in the audience, also cast a vote for freedom of speech, but he said it should be recognized that the First Amendment doesn't grant people the right to yell fire in a crowded building.

At the one-hour mark, the moderator called for a vote to see if the audience wished to continue the debate. More than two-thirds voted to continue. The debate lasted about 20 minutes longer and about a dozen audience members spoke for or against the administration's actions or posed questions to speakers. Following the exchange a vote was taken and 16 people voted against taking the students out of the debate and one voted for the administration's decision.

What should you do if you're drunk and in a car?

By Don Staruk

Drinking and driving is against the law, but sitting in a car, drunk, is not necessarily a crime, according to Andover Police Lt. Phillip Froburg.

"You've got to be able to meet the elements of the crime," Lt. Froburg said last week.

The question was asked after the Townsmen staff noticed that, in some cases, arrests were made when allegedly intoxicated persons were found in parked cars while other times the subjects were placed in protective custody with no charges against them.

The lieutenant explained that the key in the ignition is the strongest piece of evidence that would support an operating-under-the-influence charge, but is still not necessarily enough to make an arrest.

"It used to just be if you had the keys on you, operating was inferred by that, but it's changed over the years," Lt. Froburg said. "The main thing is establishing that that person operated the car in the state that they're in. There has to be some judgment in there."

But without the key in the ignition, it would be hard to make a case that the person passed out in the front seat is the same person who drove the car to its location, according to the lieutenant. It does not matter whether the person is in the front or back seat, he said.

Without the key in the ignition, it would be hard to make a case that the person passed out in the front seat is the same person who drove the car to its location.

Another factor that helps decide whether charges are filed is where the car is located. It is not a crime to be parked in your own driveway drunk, or in any private lot.

The lieutenant pointed to one case where a judge threw out a charge of drunk driving for someone who was parked in the lot of the YMCA, on Haverhill Street, because its lot is not considered to be the "public domain."

Still, the police might want to place the alleged drunk in protective custody to make sure they don't drive off.
